Bellevue Funds (Lux) | Share class I EUR

Investment Company with Variable Capital (SICAV) according to Luxembourg Laws – UCITS
Marketing document – For professional investors: AT, CH, DE, ES, LU, PT, HK

Investment focus

The fund's aim is to achieve capital growth in the long term, is actively managed and invests in small capitalized, listed owner-managed companies in Europe where an entrepreneur or a founder family holds at least a 20% of a company's voting rights. The qualities of these companies – a focused business model, fast decision-making processes and a strong corporate culture – go hand in hand with efficient innovation, high product quality and strong customer loyalty. The corresponding impact on the share price is demonstrably positive. The fund's Management Team offers a wealth of experience in this investment segment and has built up an extensive network with entrepreneurs throughout the sector. It pursues a fundamental, bottom-up approach in identifying the most attractive foundercontrolled companies with a small market capitalization while maintaining an investment portfolio of 35 to 45 stocks diversified by country, sub-sector and style (Value, GARP, Growth). The fund takes ESG factors into consideration while implementing the aforementioned investment objectives.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results and can be misleading. As the fund is denominated in a currency that may differ than an investor's base currency, changes in the rate of exchange may have an adverse effect on prices and incomes. Performance is shown net of fees and expenses for the relevant share class over the reference period. All performance figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and do not take into account the commissions and costs incurred on the issue and redemption of shares, if any. Individual costs are not taken into account and would have a negative impact on the performance. With an investment amount of EUR 1,000 over an investment period of five years, the investment result in the first year would be reduced by the front-end load of up to EUR 50 (5%) as well as by additional individual custody charges. In subsequent years, the investment result would also be reduced by the individual custody account costs incurred. The reference benchmark of this class is used for performance comparison purposes only (dividend reinvested). The funds is actively managed. No benchmark is directly identical to a fund, thus the performance of a benchmark is not a reliable indicator of future performance of the fund to which it is compared. There can be no assurance that a return will be achieved or that a substantial loss of capital will not be incurred.

Market review

European small and mid caps, as measured by the MSCI Europe Small Cap ex-UK, rose 1.6% in February, with Europe pursuing its outperformance (SXXR +3.4%, S&P 500 -1.4%, MSCI World -0.8%) supported by the perspective of the end of the war in Ukraine, encouraging economic data and market friendly results of the German elections. Conversely, the US consumer showed signs of fatigue, as US retail sales surprised negatively (-0.5% vs +0.3% expected) while the threat of higher tariffs interacted with growing fears of inflation. The Magnificent 7 lost 8.7%, their worst monthly performance since Dec 2022, as Nvidia earnings beat was the smallest in 2 years. Encouragingly, European PMIs remained above 50 for a 2nd straight month (stable at 50.2), led notably by the Manufacturing component (9m high), with improving trends in key markets like Germany, France and Italy. In term of sectors, materials (+7.5%), financials (+4.3%) and communication services (+2.8%) performed best while energy (-1.8%), information technology (-1.3%) and consumer staples (-1.2%) lagged the most.

Against this backdrop, the fund increased 2.2% (EUR / B shares), outperforming its benchmark by 55 bps (+74 bps ytd).

Top detractors in the month were Rovi (-18.8%), Sopra Steria (-15.1%), and Bakkafrøst (-12.0%). Rovi management's brief PW and poor communication is very much a liability to the share price development. The sound financial structure and positive mid-term outlook for the CDMO business should provide a fundamental floor but this could be a long shot. We await the upcoming CMD in March for more details. Sopra Steria released a weaker than expected -1% organic 2025 top line guidance. While disappointing, growth weakness should be mostly concentrated in H1, with sequential improvement already visible in Q2. Sopra has an attractive valuation, with sound growth prospects passed the short term hiccups. Bakkafrøst released soft Q4 numbers, with an EBIT miss mainly due to lower profitability in the Feed segment. Meanwhile the case for a turnaround in Scotland and strong profitable growth in the Faroe is still intact.

Top performers in the month were Unicaja (+21.7%), Bankinter (+13.4%) and Nordex (+16.0%). Spanish banks had a strong start on the year as robust economic growth and falling employment fuel loan growth demand. This benefited our both preferred financial stock picks Unicaja and Bankinter. Nordex published pleasing FY results marked notably by the continuation of its profitability improvement. FY EBITDA margin increased 400bps to 4.1%, above the 3 to 4% guidance range. The 5% to 7% 2025 target is encouraging and gives further credit to the mid-term target of 8%, which increasingly looks like a temporary milestone.

Positioning & outlook

A lot is happening for Germany and Europe. To quote Bloomberg: "Sometimes you can feel the global economy's tectonic plates moves under your feet. This is one of those times". This time it's about Germany and the "whatever it takes" moment of Friedrich Merz. The rapidity and magnitude of the announcements to date are a strong fuel for European equities and especially small and mid caps. This narrative will continue and it is an important paradigm shift in fiscal and pro-growth policies. We expect European small and mid caps to benefit more because of their much higher cyclical exposure versus both the EuroStoxx50 and the Stoxx 600. Geographically, we are very well positioned having upped our selective German exposure from 6% to 16% late last year. Also, the Bellevue Entrepreneur Europe Small Fund boasts strong stock picks in the industrials and basic materials sectors, benefiting from a multi-trigger situation combining growth and infrastructure investments in Germany, defence programmes in Europe and a potential Ukraine peace resolution.

Risk and return profile acc. to SRI

The Fund's investment objective is to generate attractive and competitive capital growth in the long term. It is therefore particularly suited to investors with an investment horizon of at least 5 years who want to enhance their portfolio diversification with investments in European small capitalized founder-controlled companies. The Fund displays the typical risks associated with equity investments in European small caps.

We have classified this product as risk class 4 on a scale of 1 to 7, where 4 corresponds to a medium risk class. The risk of potential losses from future performance is classified as medium. In the event of very adverse market conditions, it is possible that the ability to execute your redemption request may be impaired. The calculation of the risk and earnings profile is based on simulated/historical data, which cannot be used as a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The classification of the fund may change in future and does not constitute a guarantee. Even a fund classed in category 1 does not constitute a completely risk-free investment. There can be no guarantee that a return will be achieved or that a substantial loss of capital will not be incurred. The overall risk exposure may have a strong impact on any return achieved by the fund or subfund. For further information please refer to the fund prospectus or PRIIP-KID.

Liquidity risk

The fund may invest some of its assets in financial instruments that may in certain circumstances reach a relatively low level of liquidity, which can have an impact on the fund's liquidity.

Risk arising from the use of derivatives

The fund may conclude derivatives transactions. This increases opportunities, but also involves an increased risk of loss.

Currency risks

The fund may invest in assets denominated in a foreign currency. Changes in the rate of exchange may have an adverse effect on prices and incomes.

Operational risks and custody risks

The fund is subject to risks due to operational or human errors, which can arise at the investment company, the custodian bank, a custodian or other third parties.

Awards

Benefits

- Above-average top line growth driven by high innovation and strong pricing power.
- Higher operating margins on the back of high market share ("Champion in the niche") combined with good cost discipline.
- More conservatively financed, lower debt exposure and a higher risk capacity compared to non-family businesses.
- Multi-award-winning management team with a long and successful track record investing in owner-run firms.
- Entrepreneurs for entrepreneurs – the Bellevue Group is itself an owner-run company with the majority of shares held by employees.

Inherent risks

- The fund actively invests in equities. Equities are subject to price fluctuations and so are also exposed to the risk of price losses.
- Shares in smaller businesses are generally traded in lower volumes and are subject to bigger price fluctuations than larger enterprises.
- The fund invests in foreign currencies, which means a corresponding degree of currency risk against the reference currency.
- The fund may invest a proportion of its assets in financial instruments that might under certain circumstances have a relatively low level of liquidity, which can in turn affect the fund's liquidity.
- The fund may engage in derivatives transactions. The increased opportunities gained come with an increased risk of losses.

You can find a detailed presentation of the risks faced by this fund in the "Special Investment Risks" section of the sales prospectus.
