Report of the investment manager

General market review

The first quarter of the year 2022 saw the global economic expansion decelerating its pace, moving into a slowdown phase by the end of the second quarter, with the US economy even bordering on a technical recession. Key to this dynamic has been that inflation did not prove to be transitory (as widely expected in 2021) but instead unleashed in the first half of 2022, eroding purchasing power and denting consumer confidence. Annual inflation in both the US and Europe accelerated to 8.6% by the end of June 2022. The highest inflation in 40 years emerged as a result of a multiplicity of shocks. The unusual strong recovery in goods demand following the 2020 Covid recession (propelled by significant fiscal as well as monetary stimulus) and persisting supply constraints were aggravated by a major shock to commodities (the GSCI commodities total return index rose 35.8% in USD over the first half of 2022) stemming from Russia's invasion of Ukraine on 24 February 2022. Though food prices have been tumbling since the second half of May 2022, the earlier price spikes in cereals markets will reverberate in countries with a high cereal import dependence and low GDP per capita, stoking unrest after having pushed up inflation in many frontier markets.

The strong inflationary impulse occurred against a backdrop of tight labor markets in developed economies and naturally has central bankers now on high alert to prevent inflation becoming entrenched. Central banks turned outright hawkish in the first half of 2022, signalling an unconditional commitment to contain inflation even if that requires a cooling of the economy and restrictive monetary policy. This pivot was clearly picked up by financial markets. Whereas the Fed funds futures curve signalled a terminal Fed funds rate of only 1.25% at the start of 2022, it had moved up to almost 3.75% by the end of June 2022. In the Eurozone, futures markets now reflect expectations for the ECB to swiftly hike towards a 1.95% policy rate by June 2023.

Compared to developed markets, inflation has remained relatively muted in the Asia Pacific region, with inflation in China at 2.1% in May 2022. The Chinese economy has been gradually opening up in June 2022 after stringent Covid lockdowns closed down complete cities like Shanghai. To prevent growth from undershooting severely in advance of the 20th national Congress of the CCP in November 2022, where president Xi Jinping seeks re-election, policymakers have adopted a more forceful stimulus approach, predominantly towards infrastructure. While central banks in developed markets are forced to tighten monetary policy, moderate inflation allows Chinese monetary policy to stay in easing mode.

Performance analysis

Robeco BP Global Premium Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -4.6% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Net Return in EUR). The sub-fund has outperformed the benchmark in the first half of the year despite tightening monetary policy, rampant inflation and continued Covid-19 uncertainty ravaging global markets. Through the first six months of the year, stock selection has driven performance gains, with sector allocation providing additional support. Stock selection was particularly strong in Health Care, Communication Services and Industrials. Sector allocation was strong in Energy, Health Care and Information Technology, while underweight exposure to Consumer Staples and Utilities detracted from overall performance. Regionally, stock picking contributed strongly to portfolio returns across nearly all markets. Across the market capitalization spectrum, value has been added across mega, large and mid-size capitalizations exposure. With respect to sustainability investing, we qualitatively capture a range of ESG issues which directly and indirectly affect our decision making during the course of our characteristics-based investment process.

Robeco QI Global Conservative Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -3.9% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -13.2% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country World Index (Net Return in EUR). The principal objective of the sub-fund is to achieve a high Sharpe ratio (i.e. an optimal relationship between absolute return and absolute risk). Using a combination of factors (low-risk, value and momentum), the model identifies broad groups of stocks that are likely to outperform on a risk-adjusted basis. The sub-fund outperformed the Index in the first half of 2022. Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The low-risk factor contributed positively to the relative performance. In addition, combined, the momentum factor and value factor contributed positively to the relative performance. The risk profile of the sub-fund, as measured by the volatility, was lower than that of the index. The investment process is highly disciplined and ensures that the sub-fund's overall sustainability risk rating (based on Sustainalytics ESG Risk ratings) is lower than or equal to the sustainability risk rating of the benchmark. In addition, the environmental footprint metrics, as measured by greenhouse gas emissions, water usage and waste generation of the portfolio are lower than or equal to that of the benchmark.

Robeco Sustainable Global Stars Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -12.3% (gross of fees in EUR) against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Net Return in EUR). The main reason for the outperformance was a very strong contribution from stock selection in the Healthcare and Information Technology sectors, while stock-picking in Financials, Materials and Industrials sectors detracted from overall performance. Against the reference index, the sub-fund had a neutral performance in the Energy sector, even though this is a difficult sector for the sub-fund as we focus on maintaining a good environmental profile relative to the benchmark. Sustainability is incorporated into the investment process of the sub-fund by focusing on material information with regards to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) factors. During the reporting period, the sub-fund's overall sustainability risk rating (based on Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating) remained lower than the sustainability risk rating of the benchmark, indicating a lower risk profile from an ESG point of view. In addition, the environmental profile of the sub-fund was improved further by reducing the overall exposure in terms of water use, waste generation and greenhouse gas emissions of the sub-fund relative to the benchmark. The sub-fund has an environmental profile that is more than 60% better than the benchmark average.

Robeco Emerging Stars Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -13.2% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -10.4% for its reference index, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index (Net Return in EUR). Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The sub-fund reduced the position in Russia in February, yet still had a small overweight position when the war started, which therefore contributed negatively to the relative performance. Other negative contributions to the relative performance were the overweight position in Hungary and Korea, and the underweight position in China and Saudi Arabia. Main positive performance contributions came from stock selection in China, Korea and South Africa. During the half year, the sub-fund added to positions in Thailand, Brazil, Poland and Vietnam, while the small position in Turkey was completely sold. The sub-fund maintained its investment policy, which combines active country allocation and stock selection based on fundamental research and supported by quantitative models, while ESG factors are fully integrated into the investment process. In addition, the sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile and through engagement we try to improve the sustainability profile of the companies we invest in.

RobecoSAM Global SDG Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -13.1% (gross of fees in EUR) against a return of -13.2% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR), a neutral performance. A positive contribution was made by the significantly lower risk profile of the sub-fund versus the overall market, with a beta of around 0.8. A negative contribution was made by the large underweight position of the sub-fund in Energy names and in areas such as Metals and Mining and Commodity related segments. Stock selection contributed positively due to strong contributions from stock selection in the Healthcare and Communication Services sectors. This was offset somewhat by weaker contribution from stock picking in the Materials, Industrials and Consumer Discretionary sectors.

RobecoSAM Global SDG Equities focuses on best-in-class companies that contribute to the Sustainable Development Goals as defined by the United Nations (SDG). We only select companies that have the highest scores according to our proprietary SDG framework. The companies that are selected for this strategy contribute positively to one or more of the sustainable development goals, without doing significant harm to any of the other sustainable development goals, both in terms of social- and in terms of environmental factors. All companies selected for the strategy exhibit good corporate governance.

RobecoSAM Global SDG Engagement Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -23.8% (gross of fees in USD) against a return of -20.2% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country World Index (net return in USD). The main reason for the underperformance came from stock selection. Stock selection contributed negatively due to negative attribution in the Financials, Information Technology, the Consumer Discretionary and the Communication Services segments. Strong stock selection in Healthcare and Consumer Staples sectors helped to offset some of the negative effects but was not enough to make up for the difference.

RobecoSAM Global SDG Equities focuses on companies that can improve their contribution to the Sustainable Development goals as defined by the United Nations. We aim to partner with companies where we think that they can improve their contribution to the UN sustainable development goals, without doing significant harm to any of the other sustainable development goals, both in terms of social- and in terms of environmental factors. All companies selected for the strategy exhibit good corporate governance.

Performance analysis

Robeco Asia-Pacific Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -3.9% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -9.9% for its reference index, the MSCI AC Asia Pacific (Net Return in EUR). The sub-fund beat its benchmark by a wide margin driven by good stock picks from Japan, Australia and China and helped by its focus on Value with a Future. The partial yen hedge also prevented bigger losses on the fast depreciating currency. The sub-fund enjoyed its exposure to sectors with pricing power like commodities. Oil and copper prices a.o. rose strongly on supply shortages. On the other hand the sub-fund's positions in the semiconductor sector contributed negatively as the market fears that prices will fall when supply shortages disappear. We have continued to engage with companies on more transparency particularly on environmental data. We find quite a collaborative attitude from companies in Japan, China and Korea. The sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile and takes sustainability risks into account in company valuations.

Robeco Sustainable European Stars Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -13.7% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.8% for its reference index, the MSCI Europe Index (Total Return in EUR). Despite a high active share of around 80%, the sub-fund's risk was lower compared to the index. The tracking error remained at around 4%. This in-line performance was achieved despite the rally in energy, commodity and defense related stocks in which the strategy due to its ESG focus does not have material exposure. The energy, industrials and materials sector thus detracted from the relative performance mostly offset by strong relative returns in financials, communication services, information technology and consumer discretionary. Selection effect was positive. As the strategy seeks to have a lower environmental footprint and a better ESG risk rating (using Sustainalytics ESG Risk Score) than the benchmark, investment decisions are considering the effect of adding or exiting positions on these KPIs. As a result, the strategy's carbon (Scope 1 and 2), water and waste footprint is materially lower than that of the benchmark.

Robeco QI European Conservative Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -9.6% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.8% for its reference index, the MSCI Europe Index (Net Return in EUR). The principal objective of the sub-fund is to achieve a high Sharpe ratio (i.e. an optimal relationship between absolute return and absolute risk). Using a combination of factors (low-risk, value and momentum), the model identifies broad groups of stocks that are likely to outperform on a risk-adjusted basis. The sub-fund outperformed the Index in the first half of 2022. The low-risk factor contributed positively to the relative performance. In addition, combined, the momentum factor and value factor contributed positively to the relative performance. The risk profile of the sub-fund, as measured by the volatility, was lower than that of the index. The investment process is highly disciplined and ensures that the sub-fund's overall sustainability risk rating (based on Sustainalytics ESG Risk ratings) is lower than or equal to the sustainability risk rating of the benchmark. In addition, the environmental footprint metrics, as measured by greenhouse gas emissions, water usage and waste generation of the portfolio are lower than or equal to that of the benchmark.

Robeco QI US Conservative Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -11.6% (gross of fees in USD), against a return of -20.9% for its reference index, the MSCI North America Index (Total Return in USD). The principal objective of the sub-fund is to achieve a high Sharpe ratio (i.e. an optimal relationship between absolute return and absolute risk). Using a combination of factors (low-risk, value and momentum), the model identifies broad groups of stocks that are likely to outperform on a risk-adjusted basis. The sub-fund outperformed the Index in the first half of 2022. The low-risk factor contributed positively to the relative performance. In addition, the momentum factor, and the value factor, both contributed positively to the relative performance. The risk profile of the sub-fund, as measured by the volatility, was lower than that of the index. The investment process is highly disciplined and ensures that the sub-fund's overall sustainability risk rating (based on Sustainalytics ESG Risk ratings) is lower than or equal to the sustainability risk rating of the benchmark. In addition, the environmental footprint metrics, as measured by greenhouse gas emissions, water usage and waste generation of the portfolio are lower than or equal to that of the benchmark.

Robeco BP US Premium Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -10.4% (gross of fees in US dollars), against a return of -13.2% for its reference index, the Russell 3000 Value Index (Total Return in EUR). The sub-fund has outperformed the benchmark in the first half of the year despite tightening monetary policy, rampant inflation and continued Covid-19 uncertainty ravaging global markets. Stock selection drove out performance, with gains slightly offset by sector allocation. Stock selection in Health Care, Financials and Information Technology added to overall performance, while names in Energy and Communications Services offset these contributions, albeit slight. From a sector allocation perspective, having no exposure to Utilities, and overweight allocations to Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary detracted from overall performance. With respect to sustainability investing, we qualitatively capture a range of ESG issues which directly and indirectly affect our decision making during the course of our characteristics-based investment process.

Robeco Chinese Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -9.9% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -2.7% for its reference index, the MSCI China 10/40 (Net Return in EUR). The MSCI China market had a volatile 1st half of 2022. The year started with big correction, with rising concerns of Fed tightening and Russia's invasion into Ukraine. The market dropped more in March and April as China enforced its zero covid policy. The Shanghai lockdown disrupted supply chain and put pressure on China's GDP growth. The market rebounded in May and June since China intensified stimulus policies and the worst of the covid control was over. The Robeco Chinese Equities strategy underperformed the index with underweight in energy and financials; the fund's focus on growth stocks in consumer discretionary, industrials and healthcare caused underperformance. On the positive side, the fund's overweight on stocks in the clean energy supply chain and the property sector contributed positively to the fund's performance. The focus on clean energy and property sector relaxation worked well. ESG integration is fully incorporated in our investment process and the sub-fund maintained a better Sustainability ESG risk score than the reference index.

Robeco Indian Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -7.3% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -7.8% for its reference index, the MSCI India Index (Net Return in EUR). Large underweights in Energy and Utilities impaired portfolio performance, with both sectors doing well due to higher oil prices following the Russia-Ukraine war and sharp outperformance of the Adani group stocks, where we do not have an exposure due to both governance and balance sheet reasons. Performance was aided by selection, particularly in small and mid cap names, accentuating our differentiated mid cap strategy and bottom up stock selection. Chip shortages – a global phenomenon – hurt the performance of the auto sector, which was a large overweight. The financial services sector was the best performer, aided primarily by stock selection. Apart from exclusions of weapons, tobacco and coal utility companies, the sub-fund's ESG focus stresses on integration, focusing on key sustainability parameters and how they impact the company's income statements, through both risk and opportunity factors. The sub-fund's ESG lens stresses on companies that practice good governance, and which have articulated a coherent strategy on moving towards decarbonization. Where needed, we have consciously engaged with the company to understand how they are handling issues which had been highlighted on sustainability and governance criteria.

Robeco Asian Stars Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -10.5% (gross of fees in US dollars), against a return of -16.3% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country Asia ex Japan (Net Return in USD). The sub-fund picks Value stocks with a healthy future while keeping an eye on earnings and price momentum. Chinese stock picks and especially the exposure to the property sector were strong drivers of relative returns. The economy of Indonesia is expected to resume healthy growth with contained inflation. Its stock market was the only market to book gains in the first half and the sub-fund's sizable positions helped relative returns. Anticipation of a cyclical correction in the semiconductor sector drove markets in Korea and Taiwan lower and the exposures here detracted from returns. Sustainability is integrated in every investment decision and Asian companies are found to be much more forthcoming as the topic gains in importance in Asia too. The sub-fund looks for opportunities that this focus brings in a.o. clean energy, hydrogen. The sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile.

Robeco Sustainable Asian Stars Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -14.7% (gross of fees in US dollars), against a return of -16.3% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country Asia ex Japan (Net Return in USD). The sub-fund's relative return was supported by telecommunication stocks performing relatively well. Rising net interest margins were good for banks, especially those with strong financial inclusion and fintech capabilities where the sub-fund is heavily exposed. A recovery in China stocks exposed to the property market also helped returns when the government came out with supportive measures. Indonesia was the only market to rise in absolute terms and our heavy position there was a good decision. Although Asia is doing a lot for further digitalization, positions in semiconductor stocks lagged as the market worries about a temporary pullback in demand. The sub-fund looks for investment in underappreciated and undiscovered beneficiaries of the Asian pivot towards a sustainable future and maintained an excellent carbon footprint ownership of 80% below benchmark in first half 2022. Through our engagement we actively help companies to learn more and do more to improve their sustainability. We find Asian companies to have become very susceptible for these discussions.

Robeco BP US Large Cap Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -11.0% (gross of fees in USD), against a return of -12.9% for its reference index, the Russell 1000 Value Index (Total return in USD). The sub-fund has outperformed the benchmark in the first half of the year despite tightening monetary policy, rampant inflation and continued Covid-19 uncertainty ravaging global markets. Both stock selection and sector allocation contributed to overall performance, with stock selection the primary driver of performance. Stock selection was strongest in the Health Care and Consumer Discretionary sectors, as defensive Health Care names and avoiding struggling benchmark names in Consumer Discretionary aided overall returns. Gains in Health Care and Consumer Discretionary offset detractions in Energy, Materials and Real Estate as rampant inflation and rising oil and gas prices effected consumer demand in the sectors. From a sector allocation perspective, overweight allocation to Energy and Health Care, and having no exposure to Real Estate aided overall performance. With respect to sustainability investing, we qualitatively capture a range of ESG issues which directly and indirectly affect our decision making during the course of our characteristics-based investment process

Robeco BP US Select Opportunities Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -14.0% (gross of fees in USD), against a return of 16.2% for its reference index, the Russell Mid Cap Value Index (Total Return in USD). The sub-fund has outperformed the benchmark in the first half of the year despite tightening monetary policy, rampant inflation and continued Covid-19 uncertainty ravaging global markets. Stock selection drove outperformance, adding value in 9 of 11 sectors and was strongest in Industrials, Consumer Discretionary, and Financials.

As manufacturing capabilities increased fund holdings in Industrials benefitted strongly. The sub-fund avoided struggling benchmark Consumer Discretionary names while inflation caused consumers to rethink spending habits. In Financials, rising rates and tighter monetary policy has aided insurance company performance, benefitting portfolio returns. Sector allocation detracted from overall performance, with underweight allocation to Utilities and overweight to Consumer Discretionary. The sub-fund continues to find new investment opportunities across a wide variety of areas with wide valuation spread still present in the market. With respect to sustainability investing, we qualitatively capture a range of ESG issues which directly and indirectly affect our decision making during the course of our characteristics-based investment process.

Robeco QI Continental European Conservative Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -7.1% (gross of fees in GBP), against a return of -14.1% for its reference index, the MSCI Europe ex-UK (Net Return in GBP). The principal objective of sub-fund is to achieve a high Sharpe ratio (i.e. an optimal relationship between absolute return and absolute risk). Using a combination of factors (low-risk, value and momentum), the model identifies broad groups of stocks that are likely to outperform on a risk-adjusted basis. The sub-fund outperformed the index in the first half of 2022. The low-risk factor contributed negatively to the relative performance. In addition, combined, the momentum factor and value factor contributed positively to the relative performance. The risk profile of the sub-fund, as measured by the volatility, was lower than that of the index. The investment process is highly disciplined and ensures that the sub-fund's overall sustainability risk rating (based on Sustainability ESG Risk ratings) is lower than or equal to the sustainability risk rating of the benchmark. In addition, the environmental footprint metrics, as measured by greenhouse gas emissions, water usage and waste generation of the portfolio are lower than or equal to that of the benchmark.

Robeco Chinese A-share Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -8.5% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -5.3% for its reference index, the MSCI China A-share index (Net Return in EUR). The Robeco Chinese A shares Equities strategy underperformed the index with underweight in energy and financials; the fund's focus on growth stocks in consumer discretionary, industrials and healthcare caused underperformance. On the positive side, the fund's overweight on stocks in the clean energy supply chain and the property sector contributed positively to the fund's performance. The focus on technology and innovation theme worked well. Our positions benefited by China's carbon neutrality push performed well. Overweight in utilities and underweight in communication services contributed positively. The China A shares market had a volatile 1st half of 2022. The year started with a big correction, with rising concerns of Fed tightening. The market dropped more in March and April as China enforced its zero covid policy. The Shanghai lockdown disrupted supply chain and put pressure on China's GDP growth. The market rebounded in May and June since China intensified stimulus policies and the worst of the Covid control was over. Robeco QI Chinese A-share Active Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -1.5% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -5.3% for its reference index, the MSCI China A International Index (Net returns in EUR). The investment objective of the sub-fund is to outperform its index, the MSCI China A International Index, with the aid of a quantitative stock selection model. Using a combination of factors (value, quality, momentum and analyst revisions), the model identifies broad groups of stocks that are likely to outperform in the long run. The sub-fund's relative performance was positive. The value, quality and analyst revision factors delivered a positive contribution and the momentum factor a negative contribution to the sub-fund's relative performance. The volatility of the sub-fund was in line with the volatility of the index with a medium level of active risk. Sustainability is integrated into the investment policy of the sub-fund. The investment process is highly disciplined and ensures that the sub-fund's overall sustainability risk rating (based on Sustainability ESG Risk ratings) is lower than or equal to the sustainability risk rating of the benchmark. In addition, the environmental footprint metrics, as measured by greenhouse gas emissions, water usage and waste generation of the portfolio are lower than or equal to that of the benchmark.

Robeco QI European Value Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -7.9% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.8% for its reference index, the MSCI Europe Index (Net Return in EUR). Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The Robeco QI European Value Equities fund outperformed the MSCI Europe Index in the first half of 2022. The value factor had a positive contribution to the relative performance of the sub-fund. Controlling for momentum had a positive contribution to relative performance, while controlling for low-risk and quality contributed negatively. Robeco New World Financials

Over the reporting period, Robeco New World Financials generated a return of -19.3% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -8.8% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country Financials (Net Return in EUR). Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The fund is investing in the following trends: Aging Finance, The Digital Finance & The Emerging Finance trend. The Aging Finance trend performed neutral as rising interest rates helped the performance for most life insurers while impacting several alternative asset managers. The Digital Finance trend contributed negatively as these long duration assets were impacted by the rising interest rates. The Emerging Finance trend also contributed negatively primarily driven by financial institutions with exposure to Eastern Europe including Ukraine and Russia. Alongside the implementation of Robeco's Good Governance policy the sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile, excluding the 10% bottom ranked companies on ESG from the investment universe. Through engagements like 'Climate Transition of Financial Institutions' we try to improve the sustainability profile of the companies we invest in.

Robeco Sustainable Property Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -15% (gross of fees in euros) against a return of -13.8% for its reference index, the S&P Developed Property Index (Net Return in EUR). The sub-fund underperformed the index driven mainly by negative stock selection in the US and partly offset by positive stock selection in Europe. Although stock selection within PropTech was positive, the trend allocation and overall stock selection was negative. While fundamentals remain supportive for property stocks, financing costs are rising. This will affect the investment market and in particular the pricing of lower quality assets. The sector's implied yield has risen between 50-100 basis points and offers an attractive entry point particularly in a low-growth, high-inflation environment. High Inflation, rising interest rates and the re-open theme have been important factors behind performance differences between regions and sectors in the first half of 2022. The post-Covid reopening is still a theme in most Asian countries. Europe significantly underperformed as the continent's real estate companies rank amongst the highest in terms of leverage ratios. The sub-fund integrates ESG factors (RobecoSAM, Sustainalytics, GRESB) into its investment process and actively monitors and engages companies on GHG emissions. The sub-fund has an above-average ESG score and actively steers on a carbon intensity below the benchmark average. In addition, the sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile.

Robeco Global Consumer Trends

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -29.8% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.2% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country World Index (Net Return in EUR). The global equity markets have seen the worst start to a year in over 50 years. Recession fears have risen, due to the squeeze on consumers from rising inflation. Central banks have broadly acted in a coordinated fashion to fight inflation. Our strategy lagged the overall market as our portfolio, which started the year at relatively high valuations, was negatively affected by sharply rising interest rates and worries about a macro-economic slowdown negatively impacting future earnings. The sub-fund lagged the overall market as the portfolio, which started the year at relatively high valuations, was negatively affected by sharply rising interest rates and worries about a macro-economic slowdown negatively impacting future earnings. The strategy has integrated ESG factors into its investment process by adhering to our binding elements like limiting exposure to elevated risk investments, voting in line with Robeco's Proxy Voting Policy and comply with Robeco's exclusion policy. The sub-fund also engaged with portfolio companies on social impact of gaming and labor practices in a post Covid world.

Robeco MegaTrends

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -25.1% (gross of fees in euros) against a return of -13.2% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country World Index (Net Return in EUR). The investment performance suffered primarily from a massive sell-off in growth stocks caused by spiking interest rates, which render future cash flows less valuable. At the start of the reporting period, the sub-fund managers added “Resource Stewardship” as a fifth trend to the portfolio. The aim of this trend is to capitalize on the growing need for improving our use of energy and natural resources to lower humankind’s ecological footprint. The sub-fund offers the broadest exposure to trends and thematic investing. With respect to sustainable investing, the sub-fund uses insights from both RobecoSAM and Sustainalytics in its investment process. The sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile and at the end of June 2022, the ESG risk score for the portfolio was lower than that of the reference index.

Robeco Digital Innovations

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -26.2% (gross of fees in euros) against a return of -13.2% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country World Index (Net Return in EUR). While the digital transformation of the business world, the overarching investment theme of the sub-fund, remains very much on track, investment performance suffered from the one-two-punch of a broad sell-off in growth stocks, caused by spiking interest rates, and a sell-off in cyclical stocks in June 2022. During the reporting period, the sub-fund’s managers continued to implement their long-standing strategy of gradually increasing the portfolio weight of software- versus hardware-based businesses, as long-term economic value creation is concentrated in software-based companies. With respect to sustainable investing, the sub-fund uses insights from both RobecoSAM and Sustainalytics in its investment process. The sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile and at the end of June, , the ESG risk score for the portfolio was lower than that of the reference index.

Robeco FinTech

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -34.1% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.2% for its reference index, the MSCI All Country World Index (Net Return in EUR). Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The rising interest rates impacted the long duration assets thus the Winners, Challengers, and Enablers categories all contributed negatively to performance. The Winners category saw positive contribution from the card networks though embedded finance and digital asset players contributed negatively. Within the Challengers category the finance companies that were the largest negative contributors. Cybersecurity and emerging markets companies performed well within the Enablers category while Software-as-a-Service companies were detracting. Alongside the implementation of Robeco’s Good Governance policy the sub-fund limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile. Through engagements like ‘SDG Engagement’ we try to improve the sustainability profile of the companies we invest in.

RobecoSAM Circular Economy Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -22.6% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR). The sub-fund underperformed the reference index in the first half of 2022. This was largely due to the sub-fund’s sector exposure, which was not neutralized by the positive contribution of individual stock selection. Owing to its thematic focus, major part of the sub-fund’s holdings are enablers of the transition to a circular economy, many of which can be found in industrial, material and technology sectors. As such, the sub-fund was negatively impacted by not having exposure to energy, utilities or certain consumer staples groups, all of which outperformed the reference index. The sub-fund has the following sustainable investment objective: to finance solutions that support the transition from traditional production and consumption patterns toward a circular economy. The strategy integrates sustainability indicators on a continuous basis as part of the stock selection process. Amongst others, the sub-fund applies norms-based and activity-based exclusions, Robeco’s good governance policy and considers Principal Adverse Impacts in the investment process.

RobecoSAM Smart Energy Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -20.5% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR). The sub-fund generally underperformed the reference index in the first half of 2022. Smart Energy investments were negatively impacted by inflationary pressures, recession fears, supply chain issues, and undesirable exposure to European market due to the Ukrainian conflict. Renewable energies stocks performed well in the first quarter as the market started pricing in a more robust growth outlook due to the energy security angle, but came under pressure in the second quarter of 2022. In the second quarter, Energy Network companies benefited from their defensive characteristics: remuneration from regulated asset base and inflation protection. The sub-fund has the following sustainable investment objective: to further the transformation and decarbonization of the global energy sector. The strategy integrates sustainability indicators on a continuous basis as part of the stock selection process. Amongst others, the sub-fund applies norms-based and activity-based exclusions, Robeco’s good governance policy and considers Principal Adverse Impacts in the investment process.

RobecoSAM Smart Materials Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -21.0% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR). The sub-fund generally underperformed the reference index in the first half of 2022, affected by inflationary pressures, recession fears, supply chain issues and disruptions from the Ukrainian conflict. Higher interest rates have increased the risk of a housing downturn, which drove the underperformance of Efficient Building Materials. Furthermore, semiconductor-exposed stocks suffered from general weakness. Performance Technology held up better than the market, with the help of a more resilient performance of stocks within the Analytical Instruments and Recycling & Disposal sub-clusters, where a few companies exceeding expectations. The sub-fund has the following sustainable investment objective: to help mitigate the resource scarcity challenge within industries while supporting economic growth. The strategy integrates sustainability indicators on a continuous basis as part of the stock selection process. Amongst others, the sub-fund applies norms-based and activity-based exclusions, Robeco's good governance policy and considers Principal Adverse Impacts in the investment process.

RobecoSAM Smart Mobility Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -18.3% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR). The sub-fund generally underperformed the reference index in the first half of 2022, majorly affected by general weakness of the semiconductor-exposed stocks, due to the tightness of supply that is expected to persist well beyond the end of the year. Additionally, broader sell-off of prominent technology companies affected the Connectivity sub-cluster. Various EV Manufacturers performed in-line or above expectations, due to individual strengths – from vertical integration and in-sourced component production, to introduction of new vehicle models. Among Battery producers, some introduced new technologies to the market and others were able to improve pricing with their customers, all leading to positive performance. The sub-fund has the following sustainable investment objective: to support the transformation and decarbonization of the global transportation sector. The strategy integrates sustainability indicators on a continuous basis as part of the stock selection process. Amongst others, the sub-fund applies norms-based and activity-based exclusions, Robeco's good governance policy and considers Principal Adverse Impacts in the investment process.

RobecoSAM Sustainable Healthy Living Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -12.8% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR). The sub-fund generally outperformed the reference index due to its defensive exposure to the Healthcare and Consumer Staples sectors. Healthcare companies with predictable growth profiles and inflation-resilient business models were sought after by investors. The clusters showing more negative performance were affected by their exposure to discretionary consumption, lockdowns in China, supply chain issues, and concerns about inflationary demand destruction. Moreover, some companies suffered from concerns about rising input costs against the background of missing ingredients from Ukraine and Russia, and the post-pandemic decrease of revenues in biotechnology. The sub-fund has the following sustainable investment objective: to promote good health and well-being and contributing to an efficient healthcare system. The strategy integrates sustainability indicators on a continuous basis as part of the stock selection process. Amongst others, the sub-fund applies norms-based and activity-based exclusions, Robeco's good governance policy and considers Principal Adverse Impacts in the investment process.

RobecoSAM Sustainable Water Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -20.6% (gross of fees in euros), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR). The sub-fund underperformed the reference index in the first half of 2022. All four investment cluster showed an absolute negative performance. Water investments suffered under Russia's invasion of Ukraine, supply chain issues, inflation as well as recession fears. While the sub-fund does not have any investments in the Russian or Ukrainian stock markets, it has some minor exposure through business or sourcing in the two countries (max. 1-2% of sales of relevant companies). The sub-fund was also negatively impacted by not having exposure to consumer staples and energy, both of which outperformed the index, and by having significant overweight in industrials, which underperformed. The sub-fund has the following sustainable investment objective: to help mitigate the global challenges related to scarcity, quality, and allocation of water. The strategy integrates sustainability indicators on a continuous basis as part of the stock selection process. Amongst others, the sub-fund applies norms-based and activity-based exclusions, Robeco's good governance policy and considers Principal Adverse Impacts in the investment process.

RobecoSAM Global Gender Equality Equities

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -16.3% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -13.5% for its reference index, the MSCI World Index (Total Return in EUR). Not having exposure to the energy sector and stock selection in industrials, materials and information technology had a negative effect on relative returns. High conviction companies in the healthcare and financials yielded the largest positive contributors to relative return. Not having exposure to several communication services companies - which generally score poorly on gender equality - also had a positive effect on relative returns. The sub-fund exhibits multiple favourable gender equality characteristics by supporting both health & wellness and employee engagement policies. The sub-fund also exhibits favorable equality performance in terms of female representation and gender pay equality as well as having a lower environmental footprint versus the MSCI World Index.

Robeco Next Digital Billion

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -43.2% (gross of fees in US dollars), against a return of -17.6% for its reference index, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index (Net Return in USD). Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The sub-fund underperformed the reference index due to a sharp pull-back in stock prices for high growth companies partly explained by rising rates in many emerging markets, in addition to geopolitical events in Russia and Ukraine. Many of the companies in portfolio reported strong results despite a volatile macro-economic environment, and the underlying Next Digital Billion trend is firmly in place. Within the sub-fund's high conviction approach, stocks directly and indirectly exposed to the conflict between Russia and Ukraine had a negative effect on the performance. The sub-fund includes ESG factors in the analysis of investments, and plans to actively engage with companies that are invested in. The portfolio has a better Sustainalytics score compared to the reference index and limits investments in companies with an elevated sustainability risk profile. Many of the businesses that the sub-fund is invested in, are mission driven, facilitating individuals and businesses to have access to useful and affordable products and services that meet their needs.

Robeco High Yield Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -12.4% (gross of fees hedged into euros), against a return of -14.9% for its reference index, the Bloomberg US Corp. HY & Pan Eur. HY. ex Fin. 2.5% Issuer Cap (hedged into EUR). Peaking inflation, continued global supply disruptions, a horrendous war in Ukraine, central banks in retreat and much tighter financial conditions all added up to the very negative tone for credit. The portfolio's cautious stance, and up-in quality positioning helped greatly in outperforming in this very weak environment. The outspoken underweight beta position contributed positively to the relative performance, as did the off-index allocation to BBB-bonds. The sub-fund benefitted from its off-index position in the financials sector, which did less badly than the broader market. Apart from exposure to the automotive subsector, the sub-fund is very underweight in cyclical industries like retail, leisure, travel, gaming. These sectors suffered most, which also added to the relative performance. With respect to sustainable investing, the sub-fund has integrated ESG factors into the investment process. The prime goal of integrating ESG factors into the analysis is to strengthen the ability to assess the downside risk of the credit investments. RobecoSAM sustainability data and external sources are used to make an ESG assessment as part of fundamental analysis.

Robeco Global Credits

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -14.5% (gross of fees hedged into euros), underperforming the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporates Index (hedged into EUR) by -0.6%. The underperformance was mainly the result of issuer selection, including the impact of regional positioning. Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The sub-fund started the year with a cautious position based on tight valuation. The risk position was first moved to neutral and later to small overweight as spreads widened. The sub-fund held an overweight position in Europe versus North America since the start of the year. The basis for this position was projected monetary tightening in the US versus a more accommodative policy in Europe. The invasion of Ukraine by Russia changed both the economic outlook for Europe as well as central bank policy due to inflation. The regional position has been the key reason for underperformance. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers.

Robeco QI Dynamic High Yield

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -12.1% (gross of fees hedged into euros), against a return of -15.8% for its reference index, the Bloomberg Global High Yield Corporate (hedged into EUR).

The sub-fund provides liquid exposure to high yield through credit default swap (CDS) indices on top of a portfolio of government bonds. The position in CDS indices is based on a quantitative model: the position is increased to 150% when the model is positive and vice versa reduced to 50% when negative. The sub-fund held an underweight position from February to June 2022 and a short-lived overweight position in March. The underweight was the main contributor to the performance as high yield spreads widened. The overweight in Europe and underweight in the US detracted somewhat, driven by the Russian invasion of the Ukraine in February 2022. The outperformance is explained by a positive contribution from the model-based active positions and a slight negative contribution from CDS indices underperforming high yield bonds. In the long run the sub-fund does not expect structural return differences between CDS indices and bonds. Given the type of instruments used to implement the investment strategy, ESG integration does not play a role in the investment strategy.

Robeco QI Global Multi-Factor Credits

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -13.7% (gross of fees hedged into euros), against a return of -13.9% for its reference index, the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index (hedged into EUR).

This sub-fund offers balanced exposure to the value, momentum, low-risk, quality and size factors by using a highly systematic investment process. The bottom-up selection of bonds aims to systematically harvest factor premiums with a risk profile similar to the index and with the weighted average ESG scores and CO2 emissions of the government bonds and the credits in portfolio better than in the index. The sub-fund incorporates an active duration overlay, which is fully driven by the outcomes of our quantitative duration model.

The systematic duration overlay contributed positively to the performance, mainly because it was positioned for rising US yields. The factor-based credit selection resulted in a neutral contribution. In credit selection the low-risk/quality factor performed well, while the value factor detracted. The factor-based government bond selection detracted from the performance. The low-risk and value factors detracted while momentum contributed positively.

Robeco Global Credits - Short Maturity

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -6.5% (gross of fees hedged into euros) compared to -6.5% for its index, the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporates 1-5 Index (hedged into EUR). Over the reporting period the sub-fund's performance was in line with the benchmark. Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The sub-fund's beta has been above 1 to benefit from relatively steep credit spread curves. As spreads widened due to the more hawkish central banks and the Russian invasion into Ukraine this beta position contributed negatively over the reporting period. Issuer selection contributed positively over the reporting period. Selection results were mainly driven by selection in the banking sector and the sub-fund's positioning in several emerging market companies like Bharti and Itausa SA. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers.

Robeco Corporate Hybrid Bonds

Over the reporting period, Robeco Corporate Hybrid Bonds fund generated a return of -13.7% (gross of fees in EUR), against a return of -12.7% for its benchmark, the Bloomberg Global Corporate Hybrids (3%) index. The negative total return was driven by a sharp increase in both interest rates and credit spreads.

The return contribution of the top-down beta positioning was slightly negative. The credit beta of the portfolio was only slightly above one at the start of the year, but corporate hybrids significantly underperformed Treasuries in this period. The positioning of the portfolio remains just above one. Hybrid spreads have widened to attractive levels but the economic outlook is uncertain.

Issuer selection made a large negative contribution to the portfolio's performance. Holdings in European utilities like EDF and Enel made negative contributions, while positioning in US utilities like Southern and Nextera made positive contributions. Not owning several Chinese companies that are in the benchmark made a negative contribution. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers.

Robeco QI Global Multi-Factor High Yield

In the first half of 2022, the sub-fund generated a return of -14.8% (gross of fees hedged into euros) compared to -14.9% for its index, the Bloomberg Global High Yield Corporates ex Financials Index (hedged into EUR).

This sub-fund offers balanced exposure to the value, momentum, low-risk, quality, and size factors in the global high yield corporate bond market by using a highly systematic investment process. Analysts perform a fundamental check on additional downside risks beyond the scope of the quantitative multi-factor model, including sustainability risks. The portfolio construction ensures that the portfolio's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating is better than the index, that the portfolio's carbon intensity is lower than the index and also that the water consumption and waste generation footprints are lower than the index.

Issue(r) selection delivered a strong positive contribution. The momentum, low-risk/quality and size factors delivered large positive contributions, while the value factor delivered a large negative contribution. Sector allocation delivered a strong positive contribution, mainly due to the overweight in the energy sector and to a lesser extent the underweight in the consumer non-cyclical sector. Currency denomination allocation contributed neutrally. Country allocation detracted somewhat due to the underweights in Portugal and emerging markets. The allocation to subordination groups resulted in a large positive contribution, primarily due to the overweight in corporate. Rating allocation delivered a negative contribution due to the underweight in CCCs and CCs. Beta allocation delivered a large negative contribution: the beta position of the bond portfolio delivered a strong positive contribution, while the CDS index beta hedge delivered a larger negative contribution.

RobecoSAM SDG Credit Income

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -10.6% (gross of fees hedged into US dollars). The sub-fund is managed on a total return basis and not versus an index.

Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The sub-fund started the year with a relatively cautious credit allocation. Early March 2022 spreads widened after the Russian invasion into Ukraine, some credit risk was added to the sub-fund mainly via subordinated financials. After a short relief rally markets drifted wider in the second quarter. During the first half of 2022 there was a large increase in Treasury yields as markets priced in more central bank action due to inflation pressure. The sub-fund started the year with a duration of 3 years, but the duration has been increased to 5 years. The negative fund performance is driven by both rising Treasury yields and widening credit spreads, correlation between the two was positive in the first half of 2022.

The sub-fund focusses on issuers that are contributing positively to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. That means that companies that contribute negatively to one or more SDG's, like brewing companies or oil companies, are excluded from the portfolio. All portfolio companies have good governance practices.

RobecoSAM Global SDG Credits

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -14.5% (gross of fees hedged into euros), underperforming the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporates Index (hedged into EUR) by -0.6%. The underperformance was mainly the result of issuer selection, including the impact of regional positioning.

The sub-fund started the year with a cautious credit risk position based on tight valuation. The risk position was first moved to neutral and later to a small overweight as spreads widened. The sub-fund had an overweight position in Europe versus North America since the start of the year. The basis for this position was projected monetary tightening in the US versus a more accommodative policy in Europe. The invasion of Ukraine by Russia changed both the economic outlook for Europe as well as central bank policy due to inflation. The regional position was the key reason for underperformance. The sub-fund focusses on issuers that are contributing positively to the UN Sustainable Development Goals, which excludes for example the energy sector. Energy companies were one of the best performers over the last 6 months due to rising oil prices.

RobecoSAM SDG High Yield Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -7.6% (gross of fees hedged into euros), against a return of -8.8% for its reference index, the Bloomberg US Corp. HY & Pan Eur. HY. ex Fin. 2.5% Issuer Cap (hedged into EUR). Peaking inflation, continued global supply disruptions, a horrendous war in Ukraine, central banks in retreat and much tighter financial conditions all added up to the very negative tone for credit. The portfolio's cautious stance and up-in quality positioning helped greatly in outperforming in this very weak environment. The underweight beta position contributed positively to the relative performance, as did the off-index allocation to BBB-bonds. The sub-fund benefitted from its overweight position in the financial sector, which did less badly than the broader market. Apart from exposure to the automotive subsector, the sub-fund is very underweight in cyclical industries like retail, leisure, travel, gaming. These sectors suffered most, which also added to the relative performance.

In relative terms versus the index, the sub-fund this time gained somewhat on the underweight in Energy bonds, which are excluded based on the SDG framework. With respect to sustainable investing in the investment process, the sub-fund focusses on issuers that are contributing positively to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. That means that companies that contribute negatively to one or more SDG's, like tobacco companies, certain mining companies and coal powered utilities, are excluded from the portfolio.

RobecoSAM Global Green Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -14.1% (gross of fees hedged into euros) versus -14.3% for its index, the Bloomberg Global Green Bond Index (hedged into EUR).

The sub-fund posted a negative return as fixed income markets globally sold-off sharply. An underweight duration and a curve flattener position in US rates contributed positively to the performance, and euro rates flattener positioning subtracted. The credit beta positioning contributed positively to the sub-fund's return. The sub-fund had below market credit risk at the start of the year, and spreads widened significantly in the first half of the year. The beta was gradually increased to a more neutral position at the end of the period. Issuer selection contributed positively to sub-fund's performance. The global green bond market continued to grow fast, issuance slowed down somewhat in the second quarter of 2022, as volatility in markets increased. The sub-fund provides a diversified exposure to the global green bonds market. A proprietary screening process is applied to determine the eligibility of a green bond for the sub-fund, mitigating the risk of "green washing". When assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers, ESG factors are taken into account.

RobecoSAM Climate Global Credits

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -10.0% (gross of fees hedged into euros), underperforming the Solactive Paris Aligned Global Corporate Index (hedged into EUR) by -1.1%. Total returns were mainly driven by a combination of Treasury yields moving higher, and credit spreads widening.

The sub-fund started the year with a cautious credit risk position based on tight valuation. The risk position was first moved to neutral and later to small overweight as spreads widened. The sub-fund had an overweight position in Europe versus North America since the start of the year. The basis for this position was projected monetary tightening in the US versus a more accommodative policy in Europe. The invasion of Ukraine by Russia changed both the economic outlook for Europe as well as central bank policy due to inflation. The regional position has been the key reason for underperformance.

The analysis of ESG factors is fully integrated into our assessment of the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers. This assessment includes a climate risk analysis, based on the carbon intensity of an issuer and its strategy to reduce its carbon footprint going forward. The sub-fund's carbon footprint is below that of the Paris Aligned index.

RobecoSAM Climate Global Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -10.3% (gross of fees hedged into euros), against a return of -10.0% for its reference index, the Solactive Paris Aligned Global Corporate Index (hedged into EUR). Main drivers of the outperformance were the underweight credit and EMD positions, duration policy and FX positioning while curve, swap spread and country positions subtracted from performance. The strong surge inflation forced central banks to change course and tighten monetary policy resulting in a sharp rise of volatility. Indeed, interest rates increased sharply in tandem with credit spreads as central banks are no longer supporting those asset classes with QE policies as they have prioritized bringing inflation down. The sub-fund benefited from the increase in volatility given the overall underweight positions in credit, duration and cyclical FX.

The sub-fund achieved its sustainable investment objective by having a lower (better) carbon intensity not only versus a broad market index but also versus its sustainable reference index. Furthermore, the sub-fund met its carbon reduction target by having less exposure to the worst performing polluting countries and corporates whilst having an overweight in aggregate to issuers which are outperforming based on their carbon intensities.

RobecoSAM QI Global SDG & Climate Multi-Factor Credits

This sub-fund was launched in June 2022 and is managed against the Solactive Paris Aligned Global Corporate Index (hedged into EUR). Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -2.0% (gross of fees hedged into euros), against a return of -1.5% for its reference index, the Solactive Paris Aligned Global Corporate Index (hedged into EUR). The sub-fund invests in bonds from companies that on average decarbonize in line with the Paris Agreement. Furthermore, it invests primarily in bonds issued by companies that contribute positively to the SDGs. The portfolio construction ensures that the portfolio's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating, carbon footprint, water consumption footprint and waste generation footprint are all lower than those of its index. Within these constraints, the sub-fund offers balanced exposure to the value, momentum, low-risk, quality, and size factors using a highly systematic investment process. Analysts perform a fundamental check on additional downside risks beyond the scope of the quantitative multi-factor model, including sustainability risks.

Robeco Sustainable Emerging Credits (formerly RobecoSAM Emerging SDG Credits)

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -13.1% (gross of fees hedged into euros), outperforming the JP Morgan Corporate EMBI Index (hedged into EUR) by 1.6%. Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The outperformance was the result of issuer selection while contribution from beta management was more neutral. The sub-fund started the year with an underweight credit risk position. Many emerging markets benefitted from rising commodity prices. The sub-fund has been overweight in the commodity regions and sectors which contributed to the relative performance.

The sub-fund has a large underweight position in Russian credits and Chinese real estate, which contributed substantially to the relative performance. The fund does not invest in issuers that have an SDG score of negative medium or below and with the majority of holdings being rated neutral or higher, typically issuers in the energy sector have such low SDG scores. Energy companies were one of the best performers over the last 6 months due to rising oil prices. In the investment process, the sub-fund mostly focusses on issuers that are contributing to the UN Sustainable Development Goals while acknowledging that emerging markets are lagging in terms of development. The majority of the issuers which the sub-fund invests in have a neutral or higher SDG score.

Performance analysis

Robeco Euro Government Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -13.0% (gross of fees hedged into EUR) versus -12.3% for its index, the Bloomberg Barclays Euro Aggregate Treasury Index (hedged into EUR).

The sub-fund generated a negative return as fixed income markets globally sold-off sharply. Yield curve positioning and non-government allocation both subtracted from relative performance as the sub-fund was positioned for a flattening of the EUR curve, in anticipation of a more hawkish stance by the ECB, and had a preference for AAA government-related bonds and swaps versus government bonds, anticipating the yield differential to decline. Despite the hawkish turn by the ECB, the curve steepened and especially 10-year rates rose. Government-related bond yields were dragged along with higher swap yields, thereby underperforming government bonds. Country positioning contributed as the sub-fund has had a below index weight in Italian, Spanish and Portuguese government bonds. Especially after the June 2022 ECB meeting these bond yields increased faster than German government bond yields, but as the ECB announced the intention to launch an anti-fragmentation tool, country spreads tightened sharply, outperforming AAA government-related bonds and swaps again. The sub-fund actively participated in sustainable issuance again. At the end of June 2022, circa 24% of the sub-fund was invested in green, social and sustainable bonds.

Robeco Euro Credit Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -11.3% (gross of fees hedged into EUR), against a return of -11.9% for its reference index, the Bloomberg Euro Aggregate Corporate index (hedged into EUR). Inflation turned out to be higher and more sticky than expected and this caused central banks to tighten monetary policy. Globally bond yields rose as a result of this policy change and this increase in yields explained -6.95% of the negative return. On top of that credit spreads widened significantly, which means that spread performance explained -4.35% of the return of the sub-fund. As spread valuation became more attractive a bit of risk was added to the portfolio in February and March 2022. The overall beta positioning has now become slightly overweight. The performance contribution of the top-down positioning was positive in the first half of 2022, as the sub-fund started the year with a beta underweight positioning. Issuer selection contributed positively too. Important drivers within issuer selection were the negative contribution of the short in CDX High Yield and the positive contribution of the overweight in bank cocos. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers.

Robeco All Strategy Euro Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -12.0% (gross of fees hedged into EUR), outperforming the Bloomberg Euro Aggregate Index (hedged into EUR) by 0.1%, given a index return of -12.1%. Yield curve positioning and non-government bond allocation contributed negatively to the relative performance as the sub-fund was positioned for a flattening of the EUR curve, in anticipation of a more hawkish stance by the ECB, and an overweight in government-related bonds versus government bonds, anticipating the spread to narrow. Despite the hawkish turn by the ECB in H1 2022, the curve steepened over the period and 10-year rates in particular rose. Government-related bond yields were dragged higher along with higher swap rates, thereby leading to their underperformance versus government bonds. Country positioning contributed positively as the sub-fund has had a below index weight in Italian, Spanish and Portuguese government bonds. In particular, after the June 2022 ECB meeting bond yields of these countries increased faster than German government bond yields. Credit issuer selection within corporate bonds was the main positive contributor to relative performance, with CDS hedges being particularly effective. Currency positioning also contributed, as the sub-fund held a cautious stance towards cyclical currencies such as the South African Rand. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers. At the end of June 2022 around 13% of the sub-fund is invested in green, social and sustainable bonds.

Robeco European High Yield Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -14.3% (gross of fees hedged into EUR), against a return of -14.1% for its reference index, the Bloomberg Pan-Eur. HY Corp. ex Fin. 2.5% Issuer Cap (hedged into EUR). Peaking inflation, continued global supply disruptions, a horrendous war in Ukraine, central banks in retreat and much tighter financial conditions all added up to the very negative tone for credit. Initially, high yield weakened on the expectation of high inflation and rising rates. Higher quality credit is more rates-sensitive and sold off more than lower ratings. The sub-fund has a clear quality-tilt and hence lost on this position. The sub-fund benefitted from its off-index position in the financials sector, which did less badly than the broader market. The sub-fund has some outspoken underweights in the European Telecom space, where competitive pressures and investment requirements are high. This position did not turn out well, as investors perceived Telecoms to be less cyclical and more inflation-protected. With respect to sustainable investing, the sub-fund has integrated ESG factors into the investment process. The prime goal of integrating ESG factors into the analysis is to strengthen the ability to assess the downside risk of the credit investments. RobecoSAM sustainability data and external sources are used to make an ESG assessment as part of fundamental analysis.

Robeco Sustainable Asian Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -2.8% (gross of fees hedged into USD), against a return of -1.3% for its reference index, the Bloomberg Euro Aggregate Corporate Index (hedged into USD). The sub-fund's underperformance of -1.5% since its launch in May was due to a combination of credit selection and sector allocation. The sub-fund has a focus on positive SDG issuers, which included an overweight in Indian renewable and communication issuers. Credit spreads of these Indian issuers widened more than market average and hence this allocation negatively contributed to relative performance. The underweight allocation to China and Hong Kong, whilst having overweight to India, also detracted relative performance. China and Hong Kong tend to have higher rated issuers which were more resilient to spread widening. The investment process is focused on choosing companies that enable Asia to transition in towards a more sustainable future and as a result, the sub-fund is predominately invested in neutral and positive SDGs.

RobecoSAM Euro SDG Credits

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund posted a return of -11.5% (gross of fees hedged into EUR) against a return of -11.9% for its reference index, the Bloomberg Euro Aggregate Corporate Financials Subordinated 2% Issuer Cap (hedged into EUR) index. Inflation turned out to be higher and more sticky than expected and this caused central banks to tighten monetary policy. Globally bond yields rose as a result of this policy change and this increase in yields explained -6.9% of the negative return. On top of that credit spreads widened significantly, which means that spread performance explained -4.6% of the return of the sub-fund. As spread valuation became more attractive a bit of risk was added to the portfolio in February and March 2022. The overall beta positioning has now become slightly overweight. The performance contribution of the top-down positioning was positive in the first half of 2022, as the sub-fund started the year with a beta underweight positioning. Issuer selection contributed positively too. Important drivers within issuer selection were the negative contribution of the short in CDX High Yield and the positive contribution of the overweight in bank cocos. In the investment process, the sub-fund focusses on issuers that contribute positively to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. That means that companies that contribute negatively to one or more SDG's are excluded from the portfolio. The allocation effect of this SDG investment policy was slightly negative in the first half of the year, as the underweight in negative SDG sectors like Energy contributed negatively.

Robeco Financial Institutions Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -12.5% (gross of fees hedged into EUR), which compares to a return of -13.0% for the sub-fund's index - the Bloomberg Euro Aggregate Corporate Financials Subordinated 2% Issuer Cap (hedged into EUR). The sub-fund outperformed its index (gross of fees), because of issuer selection. Important drivers within issuer selection were the overweight in bank cocos and the underweight in real estate hybrids. Inflation turned out to be higher and more sticky than expected and this caused central banks to tighten monetary policy. Globally bond yields rose as a result of this policy change. On top of that credit spreads widened significantly. As spread valuation became more attractive a bit of credit risk was added to the sub-fund in February and March 2022. The overall beta positioning has now become slightly overweight. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the t-owned agencies also paid off. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers.

Robeco Investment Grade Corporate Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -11.6% (gross of fees hedged into EUR), against a return of -12.1% for its reference index, the Bloomberg Euro Corporate ex Financials (2%) index (in EUR). The negative total return was driven by a sharp increase in both underlying government bond yields and credit spreads. The return contribution of the top-down beta positioning was positive. The credit beta of the portfolio was below one at the start of the year, and credit subsequently underperformed treasuries. The beta of the portfolio was increased during the period, but remained close to neutral. Issuer selection also contributed positively to the portfolio's performance. The portfolio benefitted from holdings in Volkswagen AG, as the car company received a rating upgrade. Positioning in government-owned agencies also paid off. ESG factors are taken into account when assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers.

RobecoSAM US Green Bonds

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of -11.7% (gross of fees hedged into EUR), versus -11.5% for its index, the Bloomberg US Green Bond index (in USD). The sub-fund posted a negative return as fixed income markets globally sold-off sharply. The credit beta positioning contributed positively to the sub-fund's return. The sub-fund had below market credit risk at the start of the year and spreads widened significantly in the first six months of 2022. The beta was gradually increased to a more neutral position at the end of the period. Issuer selection contributed negatively to the sub-fund's performance. The USD green bond market continued to grow fast, issuance slowed down somewhat in the second quarter of 2022, as volatility in markets increased. The sub-fund provides a diversified exposure to the US green bonds market. A proprietary screening process is applied to determine the eligibility of a green bond for the sub-fund, mitigating the risk of "green washing". When assessing the fundamental credit quality of individual issuers, ESG factors are taken into account.

Performance analysis

Robeco QI Multi Factor Absolute Return

Over the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a return of 11.0% (gross of fees hedged in EUR), against a return of -0.3% for its reference index, the ICE BofA ESTR Overnight Rate Index (in EUR). Key event was the war in Ukraine, leading to halting of trading in Russian securities and a write-down of Russian securities to zero value. The sub-fund harvests factor premiums through bottom-up credit and equity selection and at the market level through top-down factor-based allocation. The sub-fund targets a low correlation with equity and bond markets and market agnostic returns. Momentum, Quality, Carry and Flow all added positively to the performance. Low-risk and Value detracted. Equity allocation and commodity allocation were the main positive contributors, followed by equity selection, credit allocation and currency allocation. Credit selection and government bond allocation contributed neutrally. Environmental footprint and ESG factors are integrated. The equity sleeves realized their targets of reducing the environmental footprint metrics, greenhouse gas emissions, water usage and waste generation by 30%, 20% and 20% respectively relative to the index. In addition, the Sustainalytics ESG Risk rating was at least 10% lower than that of the index. The fund does not invest in issuers that have an SDG score of negative medium or below and with the majority of holdings being rated neutral or higher. The credit sleeve incorporates better ESG than the index and lower carbon/water/waste than the index.

Swing pricing

Shares are issued and redeemed on the basis of the net asset value per share. However, the actual costs of purchasing or selling assets and investments for a sub-fund may deviate from the latest available prices, as appropriate, in calculating the net asset value per share. This deviation can be caused by duties and charges and spread from buying and selling prices of the underlying investments ('spreads'). These costs have an adverse effect on the value of a sub-fund and its underlying share classes and are known as dilution. To mitigate the effects of dilution, the Directors may, at their discretion, make a dilution adjustment to the net asset value per share. The Directors will retain the discretion in relation to the circumstances under which to make such a dilution adjustment.

The dilution adjustment will involve adding to, when the sub-fund is in a net subscription position, and deducting from, when the sub-fund is in a net redemption position, the Net Asset Value per Share such figure as the Company considers representing an appropriate figure to meet the Cash Flow Costs. The resultant amount will be the Price rounded to such number of decimal places as the Company deems appropriate. The dilution adjustments may vary depending on the order type (net subscription or net redemption), on the underlying asset classes for any Sub-fund or on the market conditions. The dilution adjustments as well as the dealing levels from which they become applicable may be amended from time to time depending on market conditions or any other situation where the Company is of the opinion that the interests of the Shareholders require such amendment(s).

Additional details on the anti-dilution/swing pricing adjustments and actual swing factors can be found on www.robeco.com/riam.

For the avoidance of doubt, Shareholders placed in the same situation will be treated in an identical manner.

Where a dilution adjustment is made, it will increase the Price where the Sub-fund is in a net subscription position and decrease the Price where the Sub-fund is in a net redemption position. The Price of each Class in the Sub-fund will be calculated separately but any dilution adjustment will in percentage terms affect the Price of each Class in an identical manner. The dilution adjustment is made on the capital activity at the level of the Sub-fund and does not address the specific circumstances of each individual investor transaction.

The NAV's of the share classes which have been subject to dilution adjustment (swung NAV) as at 30 June 2022 are disclosed below:

Pooling and co-management

For the purpose of efficient management and to reduce administrative costs and if the investment policies of the sub-funds allow such, the Board of Directors may decide to co-manage some or all of the assets of certain sub-funds with assets of other Luxembourg UCIs of the Robeco Group (co-managed units). In this case, the assets from different co-managed units will be jointly managed using the technique of pooling. Assets that are co-managed will be referred to using the term 'pool'. Such pools will only be used for the purposes of internal management. They will not constitute distinct legal entities and will not be directly accessible to investors. Each co-managed unit will have its own assets allocated to it. During the reporting period no pooling or co-management took place.

Besides services of other market parties, the Company may also utilize the services of Robeco or one or more of its affiliates, including transactions relating to securities, treasury, derivatives, securities lending, and subscriptions and redemptions of its own shares, as well as management activities. Transactions are executed at market rates.

The Board of Directors of the Company have appointed Robeco Institutional Asset Management B.V. as the Management Company to be responsible on a day-to-day basis for providing administration, marketing and investment management services in respect of the subfunds. The Management Company has delegated the administration functions and registrar agent functions to J.P. Morgan SE. The different subfunds and share-classes will incur an annual management fee which reflects all expenses related to the management of the Company which is payable to the Management Company. The Directors of the Company are also Director of Robeco QI Global Dynamic Duration, Robeco Global Total Return Bond Fund, Robeco All Strategies Funds, Robeco (LU) Funds III and Robeco Institutional Solutions Fund.

Financial instruments

Risks

Transactions in financial instruments may lead the sub-funds to be subject to the risks described below or to the sub-funds transferring these risks to another party.

General investment risk

The value of the investments may fluctuate. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The net asset value of the sub-funds is affected by developments in the financial markets and may both rise and fall. Shareholders run the risk that their investments may end up being worth less than the amount invested or even worth nothing. Bonds or other debt securities involve credit risk to the issuer which may be evidenced by the issuer's credit rating. Securities which are subordinated and/or have a lower credit rating are generally considered to have a higher credit risk and a greater possibility of default than more highly rated securities. In the event that any issuer of bonds or other debt securities experiences financial or economic difficulties, this may affect the value of the relevant securities and any amounts paid on such securities. This may in turn affect the NAV per share. General investment risk can be broken down into market risk, concentration risk and currency risk:

Market risk

The net asset value of the sub-funds is sensitive to market movements. In addition, investors should be aware of the possibility that the value of investments may vary as a result of changes in political, economic or market circumstances. No assurance can, therefore, be given that the sub-fund's investment objective will be achieved. It cannot be guaranteed either that the value of a share in a sub-fund will not fall below its value at the time of acquisition.

Concentration risk

Based on its investment policies, each sub-fund may invest in financial instruments from issuing institutions that (mainly) operate within the same sector or region, or in the same market. If this is the case, the concentration of the investment portfolio of the sub-fund may cause events that have an effect on these issuing institutions to have a greater effect on the sub-funds's assets than would occur with a less concentrated investment portfolio.

Currency risk

All or part of the investment portfolio of a sub-fund may be invested in currencies or financial instruments denominated in currencies other than its reference currency. As a result, fluctuations in exchange rates may have both a negative and a positive effect on the investment result of the sub-fund. The Equity sub-funds minimize the risks by investing mainly in well-known companies and by making a balanced selection with regard to distribution across regions, sectors, individual stocks and currencies. The risk relative to their index is minimized by using quantitative techniques. The Bond sub-funds minimize the risks by making a balanced selection with regard to distribution across regions, sectors, individual Bonds and currencies and by investing in Bonds with a minimum rating depending on the sub-funds investment policy. The risk relative to their index is minimized by using quantitative techniques.

Counterparty risk

A counterparty of a sub-fund may fail to fulfill its obligations towards that sub-fund. In case of hedging transactions in classes of shares, the relevant sub-fund carries the counterparty risk. This risk is limited as much as possible by taking every possible care in the selection of counterparties. Wherever it is customary in the market, the sub-funds will demand and obtain collateral. The sub-funds minimize this risk by trading exclusively with reputable counterparties with a minimum rating of A in the Standard & Poor's or other recognized credit rating agencies lists.

Risk of lending financial instruments

In the case of financial instrument lending transactions, the Company and its respective sub-funds concerned run the risk that the borrower cannot comply with its obligation to return the financial instruments on the agreed date or furnish the requested collateral. The lending policy of the Company is designed to control these risks as much as possible.

The credit worthiness of counterparties in securities-lending transactions is assessed on the basis of how independent rating agencies regard their short-term credit worthiness and on the basis of their net assets. Guarantees given by parent companies are also taken into account. The fund only accepts collateral from OECD countries in the form of:

- government Bonds with a minimum credit rating of BBB;
- the Bonds of supranational bodies with a minimum credit rating of BBB-;
- stocks listed on the main indexes of stock markets in OECD countries; and to a limited extent in the form of
- index trackers;
- stocks issued by financial institutions;
- cash.

As of balance-sheet date, the fund had received collateral ensuing from securities-lending transactions. More information can be found on page 68.

Liquidity risk

The actual buying and selling prices of financial instruments in which the sub-funds invest partly depend upon the liquidity of the financial instruments in question. It is possible that a position taken on behalf of a sub-fund cannot be quickly liquidated in a good time at a reasonable price due to a lack of liquidity in the market in terms of supply and demand. The sub-funds minimize this risk by mainly investing in financial instruments that are tradable on a daily basis.

Euro currency risk

All or part of the assets of sub-funds may be invested in securities denominated in Euro. In the event of any adjustments, including a full break-up, an exit of individual countries or other circumstances that may result in the emergence or reintroduction of national currencies, each sub-fund runs the risks that the value of its investments is reduced and/or the liquidity of its investments is (temporarily) reduced, regardless of the measures the Company may seek to reduce this risk.

Operational risk

The operational risk is the non inherent risk remaining after determining the risks as detailed above (general investment risk, counterparty risk, liquidity risk, Euro currency risk or risk of lending financial instruments). It mainly includes risks resulting from breakdowns in internal procedures, people and systems.

Insight into actual risks

The report of the Board of Directors, the Statement of net assets, the Notes to the financial statements and the Schedule of Investments, which include currency classification of the investments, give an insight into the actual risks at the end of the reporting period.

Risk management

Managing risk is a part of the investment process as a whole and with the help of advanced systems, the risks outlined above are limited, measured and monitored on the basis of fixed risk measures.

Policy regarding the use of derivatives

Investing implies that positions are taken. As it is possible to use various instruments, including derivative instruments, to construct an identical position, the selection of derivatives is subordinate to the positioning of an investment portfolio. In our published information, attention is given primarily to the overall position, and secondarily to the nature and volume of the financial instruments employed.

Derivative instruments

The unrealized results of derivative instruments are reported in the Statement of net assets. Commitments to derivatives are not included in the Statement of net assets. They are, however, explained in the Schedule of Investments. The unrealized results presented in the Statement of net assets are disclosed by contract in the Schedule of Investments.

The derivative instruments listed in the Notes are transacted through third party brokers. Those brokers hold/paid collateral as described on page 196. The Company is exposed to counterparty risk in respect of all amounts including collateral due to it from such brokers.

2. Summary of significant accounting principles

General

Unless stated otherwise, the items shown in the financial statements are included at their nominal value and expressed in the reference currency of the sub-fund. This semi-annual report covers the reporting period from 1 January 2022 until 30 June 2022.

Preparation and presentation of financial statements

The financial statements are prepared on the basis of the last NAV calculated during the reporting period (30 June 2022 for all subfunds) and presented in accordance with Luxembourg generally accepted accounting principles for investment funds. The going concern basis was applied for the preparation of the financial statements of the Fund and its sub-funds, except for the sub-funds liquidated during the year and for the sub-fund Robeco QI Continental European Conservative Equities, that will be liquidated on 10 May 2022

Combined figures

The combined figures are expressed in Euro and are presented for information purpose only. The combined figures are the sum of the statements of each sub-funds. The Combined Statement of net assets is presented in EUR at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period, while the Combined Statement of operations and changes in net assets is presented in EUR at the average exchange rates during the year. Cross sub-funds investments (where one sub-fund invested within sub-fund of the Company) have not been eliminated from the Combined Statement.

Foreign currencies

Transactions in currencies other than the reference currency of the relevant sub-fund are converted into the reference currency at the exchange rates prevailing at the time of the transaction. The market value of the investments, assets and liabilities expressed in currencies other than the reference currency of the sub-fund are converted into the sub-fund's reference currency at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period. Any positive or negative exchange differences arising are accounted for in the Statement of operations and changes in net assets. The table on page 266 shows the exchange rates as at 30 June 2022.

Valuation of investments

Transferable securities, money market instruments and financial derivative instruments listed on an official stock exchange listing

These instruments are valued at their last available market price; in the event that there should be several such markets, on the basis of the last available price of the main market for the relevant security or asset. Should the last available market price for a given transferable security, money market instrument or financial derivative instrument not truly reflects its fair market value, then that transferable security, money market instrument or financial derivative instrument is valued on the basis of the probable sales price which the Board of Directors deems prudent to assume. Fixed income securities not traded on such markets are generally valued at the last available price or yield equivalents obtained from one or more dealers or pricing services approved by the Board of Directors or any other price deemed appropriate by the Board of Directors. According to the valuation policy which is approved by the Fund Board a fair value adjustment will be made to reflect the current market values for securities traded in markets with a different timezone (mainly Asia Pacific) where new market information surfaces after the close of the local market but before the calculation of the NAV.

Transferable securities and/or money market instruments dealt in on another regulated market

These instruments are valued on the basis of their last available market price. Should the last available market price for a given transferable security and/or money market instrument not truly reflects its fair market value, then that transferable security and/or money market instrument is valued by the Board of Directors on the basis of the probable sales price which the Board of Directors deems prudent to assume.

Transferable securities and/or money market instruments not listed or dealt in on any stock exchange or on any regulated market

In the event that any assets are not listed or dealt in on any stock exchange or on any regulated market, or if, with respect to assets listed or dealt in on any stock exchange, or on any regulated market as aforesaid, where the above valuation methods are inappropriate or misleading, the Board of Directors may adopt any other appropriate valuation principles for the assets of the Company.

Shares in underlying open-ended investment funds

These shares or units are valued at their latest available net asset value per share. In the event that such valuation method is inappropriate or misleading, the Board of Directors may adopt any other appropriate valuation principles for the assets of the Company.

Sub-funds primarily invested in markets which are closed for business at the time of valuation of the sub-fund are normally valued using the prices at the previous close of business.

Market volatility may result in the latest available prices not accurately reflecting the fair value of the sub-fund's investments. This situation could be exploited by investors who are aware of the direction of market movements, and who might deal to exploit the difference between the next published Net Asset Value and the fair value of the sub-fund's investments. By these investors paying less than the fair value for shares on issue, or receiving more than the fair value for shares on redemption, other shareholders may suffer a dilution in the value of their investment. To prevent this, the Company may, during periods of market volatility, adjust the Net Asset Value per Share prior to publication to reflect more accurately the fair value of the sub-fund's investments. Adjustment will be made provided that such change exceeds the threshold as determined by the Board of Directors for the relevant sub-fund. If an adjustment is made, it will be applied consistently to all classes of shares in the same sub-fund. At the end of the reporting period, no such adjustments were made:

Investment transactions and investment income

Securities are initially recorded at cost, and where applicable on the basis of exchange rates prevailing on the date they are purchased. Results on sales of securities are determined on the basis of the average cost method (for futures first in first out method). Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Dividends are accounted for on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Discounts/Premiums on zero coupon bonds are accreted as adjustments to interest income. Interest and capital gains on securities may be subject to withholding or capital gains taxes in certain countries.

3. Open forward exchange transactions

Open forward exchange transactions are valued with market practice valuation models using forwards rates based on exchange and interest rates applicable at 31 December 2021. The unrealized results of these transactions have been recorded gross in the Statement of net assets under the heading 'Unrealised gain/loss on forward currency exchange contracts' and changes in unrealized results are recorded in the Statement of operations and changes in net assets under the heading 'Net change in unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) on forward currency exchange contracts'. The contracts outstanding as at 31 December 2021 are disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. Information on the collateral received or paid on these positions is stated in the table on page 242. The paid collateral is restricted cash and is included in the Statement of net assets under the Assets 'Cash at bank and at brokers'. The received collateral is included in the Statement of net assets under the liabilities 'Due to brokers'.

4. Interest rate swaps

Interest rate swaps are valued with market practice valuation models using exchange and interest rates applicable at 31 December 2021. The unrealized gains/losses on interest rate swaps are recorded gross in the Statement of net assets under the heading 'Swap contracts at fair value' and changes in unrealized results are recorded in the Statement of operations and changes in net assets under the heading 'Net change in unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) on Swaps contracts'. The contracts outstanding as at 31 December 2021 are disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. Information on the collateral on these positions is stated in the table on page 242. The paid collateral is restricted cash and is included in the Statement of net assets under the Assets 'Cash at bank and at brokers'. The received collateral is included in the Statement of net assets under the liabilities 'Due to brokers'.

5. Credit default swaps

Credit default swaps are valued at fair value under procedures approved by the Board of Directors. The valuation is based on recognised market models with observable market inputs used to perform the valuation. The unrealized gains/losses on credit default swaps are recorded gross in the Statement of net assets under the heading 'Swap contracts at fair value' and changes in unrealized results are recorded in the Statement of operations and changes in net assets under the heading 'Net change in unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) on Swaps contracts'. The contracts outstanding as at 31 December 2021 are disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. Information on the collateral on these positions is stated in the table on page 242. The paid collateral is restricted cash and is included in the Statement of net assets under the Assets 'Cash at bank and at brokers'. The received collateral is included in the Statement of net assets under the liabilities 'Due to brokers'.

6. Financial futures contracts

Regulated futures contracts are valued at their exchange quoted settlement price. Initial margin deposits are made upon entering into futures contracts. Variation margin payments are made or received, depending on the daily fluctuation in market value of the contract and are recorded by the fund as unrealised appreciation or depreciation. When the contract is closed, the Company records a realized gain or loss equal to difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. All margin deposits are included in the Statement of net assets under the heading 'Cash at bank and at brokers'.

Changes in unrealized results and realized results during the period are both recorded in the Statement of operations and changes in net assets. The contracts outstanding as at 31 December 2021 are disclosed in the Schedule of Investments.

7. Collateral

Several sub-funds received or paid collateral to cover the unrealized results on derivative instruments. Collaterals are calculated and settled on a daily basis per counterparty. The collateral is primarily cash held at the broker in the name of the sub-fund. The paid collateral is restricted cash and is included in the Statement of net assets under the Assets 'Cash at bank and at brokers'. The received collateral is included in the Statement of net assets under the liabilities 'Due to brokers'. No cash collateral has been reinvested. The amounts per sub-fund and counterparty are shown in the table below.

The classes of shares of the sub-funds are liable in Luxembourg to an annual duty ('taxe d'abonnement'/'subscription tax') at the rate of 0.05% of their net assets calculated and payable at the end of each quarter. The sub-funds will receive income from their investments after deduction of applicable withholding taxes in the country of origin. There are no Luxembourg income, withholding, capital gains, estate or inheritance taxes payable by the sub-funds.

Since 17 December 2019, the capital gains taxes are accrued in the Net Asset Value and included in the Statement of net assets under the heading 'Other liabilities' and included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets under 'Net realised gain/(loss) on currency exchange' for the capital gain taxes linked to realized gains and under 'Net Change in unrealised appreciation/depreciation on : currency exchange ' for the unrealized appreciation of investments during the year.

If the sub-funds invest in UCITS/UCI's that are not part of the Robeco Group, all costs at the level of these UCITS/UCI's (including the non recoverable management fees, service fees, performance fees and/or transactions costs) shall be borne by the sub-funds ultimately and therefore by the shareholders. The management fee and service fee paid in the Robeco funds is restituted to the sub-funds and recorded in the Statement of operations and changes in net assets. During the period, the cross investments between the sub-funds mainly occurred in share-class Z of Robeco sub-fund which does not pay any management fees.

14. Management, service and performance fees

The different sub-funds or class of shares incur an annual management fee payable to the Management Company, which reflects all expenses related to the management of the sub-funds. Furthermore the different sub-funds or classes of shares incur an annual service fee payable to the Management Company reflecting all remaining expenses such as the fees of the administration agent, the registrar agent, auditors and legal advisers, the costs of custody (including custody fees and bank charges), the costs of depositary services, the costs of preparing, printing and distributing all prospectuses, memorandums, reports and other necessary documents concerning the Company, any fees and expenses involved in the registration of the Company with any governmental agency and stock exchange, the costs of publishing prices and operational expenses, and the cost of holding shareholders' meetings.

The annual charges, both management fee and service fee, are expressed as a percentage of the net asset value. The charges, paid quarterly, are based on the net asset value of the relevant period and are reflected in the share price.

The share classes Z do not pay management fees. For some sub-funds the Management Company is entitled to a performance fee, payable annually in arrears after the end of the reporting period. A performance fee for the relevant class of shares of the sub-fund is only due at the end of the financial year when the relevant class of shares of the sub-fund outperforms the relevant index or hurdle rate as indicated in the prospectus. Note that an outperformance of the relevant class of shares of the sub-fund does not imply a positive return of the of the relevant class of shares of the sub-fund, a performance fee is also due when the relevant class of shares of the sub-fund has a negative return but an outperformance over the relevant index or hurdle rate as indicated in the prospectus. This outperformance must have taken place since inception of the relevant class of share of the sub-fund or since the time that a performance fee was due. In the event that payment of the performance fee is due, the basis for the performance fee calculation for the next financial year will start at 0 (reset). In the event that no payment of the performance fee is due no reset will take place. In addition if a shareholder redeems or switches all or part of their shares before the end of a performance period, any accrued performance fee with respect to such shares will crystallize on that Valuation Day and will then become payable to the Management Company. The basis for the performance fee calculation will not reset on those valuation days at which performance fees crystallize following the redemption or switch of shares.

The following table shows the maximum percentages for the different outstanding classes of shares on an annual basis.

19. Broker commission

Robeco will ensure that the selection of counterparties for trade execution ('Brokers') will take place according to defined procedures and criteria to ensure best execution, taking into account execution capability and - where applicable - quality of investment research ('Research').

Under the influence of the MIFID II regulation RIAM decided to bear the research costs for most of the sub-funds of Robeco Capital Growth Funds from 2018. Only for the funds for which the American based asset manager Boston Partners is the Portfolio Manager, the research costs are charged to the fund. Below text on research costs is only applicable to the funds in the table below.

Brokers may charge execution only fees (excluding a fee for Research) and brokers may also charge a transaction fee consisting of two elements: a fee for the execution of an order and a fee for Research. Robeco will only pay a fee for Research if such Research is directly instrumental for improving the investment decision-making process within Robeco (via full service fees and via Commission Sharing Agreements ('CSA')). Having CSAs enables Robeco to unbundle research and execution services to fulfill best execution criteria. By using CSAs, Robeco can obtain research services from those providers who do not have an execution business or do not fit Robeco's best execution criteria. It is Robeco's policy that the abovementioned arrangements are only allowed as long as the research services under consideration research, securities advice, etc.) are related to the enhancement of Robeco investment process. Robeco makes use of:

1. Execution only fees for quantitatively managed equity sub-funds;
2. Full services fees for fundamentally managed equity sub-funds; and
3. CSAs for fundamentally managed equity sub-funds.

20. Portfolio Turnover Ratio (PTR)

This is the turnover ratio of the investments, against the average assets entrusted and this is a measure of the incurred transaction costs resulting from the investment portfolio policies pursued and the ensuing investment transactions. In the calculation method that is used the amount of turnover is determined by the sum of purchases and sales of investments, excluding derivative and liquidity instruments, less the sum of issuance and repurchase of own shares, divided by the daily average of the net assets. The portfolio turnover ratio is determined by expressing the amount of turnover as a percentage of the average assets entrusted. The following table shows the portfolio turnover ratios of the sub-funds.
