

Trojan Fund (Ireland)

Marketing Communication
All data as at 31 December 2024
taml.co.uk

The Fund seeks to achieve growth in capital, ahead of inflation (UK Retail Price Index), over the longer term (5 to 7 years). The Fund employs a long-term, long only approach and has the flexibility to invest across a broad range of asset classes, most commonly a combination of high-quality developed market equities, developed market government bonds, gold related investments and cash.

December Commentary

Your Fund (O Acc GBP) returned 0% during the month.

Santa never came. The traditional seasonal stock market rally failed to materialise, and we eked out a flat return for December in a falling market. For the calendar year the Fund returned +6.5%.

After a couple of dull years, Unilever, the Fund's largest equity holding, performed well, justifying our patience. We believe there is more to come from Unilever despite the modest re-rating in the shares' valuation. Other strong performers included Alphabet, Visa and American Express. The card payment companies have been a theme for the Fund for the past five years, as they have continued to benefit from the shift from cash and cheque to card and online payments. Procter & Gamble also performed well. The detractors were our other staples businesses, especially Nestlé, which remains in the doghouse. The shares have de-rated to 16x earnings and offer a 4% yield. By historic standards this valuation looks better than fair to us and in some respects the shares feel about as unloved as Unilever was two years ago. Good prices and good news rarely come together.

Finally, the Fund's holding in gold bullion performed strongly, up +24% in sterling terms. We continued to reduce the holding into strength. The precious metal has benefitted from simmering geopolitical risk and record central bank demand. We continue to view gold as essential portfolio insurance.

In our opinion the outlook for prospective equity returns is low, with long term equity valuations stretched by historic standards and bond yields retesting recent highs. Stock markets have been buoyed by the AI narrative for two years and value-insensitive index buying. It will be hard to exceed investor expectations in 2025 and that is before we add the unpredictability of a Trump presidency into the mix!

Important Information

Please refer to Troy's Glossary of Investment terms here. Fund performance data provided is calculated net of fees with income reinvested unless stated otherwise. All performance and income data is in relation to the stated share class, performance of other share classes may differ. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. Overseas investments may be affected by movements in currency exchange rates. The value of an investment and any income from it may fall as well as rise and investors may get back less than they invested. The historic dividend yield reflects distributions declared over the past twelve months as a percentage of the fund's price, as at the date shown. The yield is not guaranteed and will fluctuate. It does not include any preliminary charge and investors may be subject to tax on their distributions. The UK Retail Prices Index (RPI) is a target benchmark for the fund as the Fund aims to achieve a return (the money made or lost on an investment) that is above the rate of inflation, reference to other benchmarks are for comparative purposes only. Tax legislation and the levels of relief from taxation can change at any time. Any change in the tax status of a Fund or in tax legislation could affect the value of the investments held by the Fund or its ability to provide returns to its investors. The tax treatment of an investment, and any dividends received, will depend on the individual circumstances of the investor and may be subject to change in the future. There is no guarantee that the objective of the investments will be met. The Fund may use currency forward derivatives for the purpose of efficient portfolio management. The UK RPI figures shown are a combination of the actual rate of RPI, as calculated by the Office of National Statistics, and estimates for the previous month. This is a marketing communication.
