Summary of fund objective

The Fund aims to provide a positive total return over a market cycle. The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in derivatives and other commodity-linked instruments that provide exposure to the following four sectors of the commodities markets: agriculture, energy, industrial metals and precious metals. For the full objectives and investment policy please consult the current prospectus. Name changed from Invesco Gold & Special Minerals Fund on 24 June 2025. The fund objective also changed.

Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. The fund uses derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes, which may result in the fund being significantly leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. As this fund is invested in a particular sector, you should be prepared to accept greater fluctuations in the value of the fund than for a fund with a broader investment mandate. Investment in instruments providing exposure to commodities is generally considered to be high risk which may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.

Fund Strategy

The fund manager uses highly liquid derivative instruments to capture direct commodity market performance with the potential for lower volatility and smaller drawdowns than its benchmark. The fund is actively managed to reduce asset concentration and exploit long-term drivers of return that indexes de-emphasize or ignore completely.

Indexed performance*

The performance track-record of this share class starts on 24 June 2025 due to the change in the objective of the fund on that date. Performance information for this share class will therefore be available after 24 June 2026.
