Market development

Market review June 30, 2025

The first half of 2025 was eventful and marked by elevated uncertainty in global financial markets. The overall environment was shaped by broad geopolitical tensions, most notably the escalation of trade disputes between the United States and its key trading partners, as well as the rapprochement between the U.S. and Russia, which undermined confidence in transatlantic security cooperation and led to a surge in defense spending across Europe. The escalation of the Middle East crisis and fears about its impact on oil prices further heightened concerns. Despite these headwinds, economic fundamentals have so far held up: labor markets have remained resilient, and a global recession has been avoided. However, political uncertainty and a trend toward deglobalization have weighed on global growth expectations. Among investors, caution prevailed – though selective risk-taking also emerged in the form of thematic allocations and regionally focused strategies.

During the first quarter, major developed markets experienced steep declines – Japanese and U.S. equities suffered with the S&P 500 falling sharply. Technology stocks were under heavy pressure. Meanwhile, European markets and emerging markets such as China and South Korea benefited from strong momentum in AI-related names, robust defense sector demand and relatively attractive valuations.

Sentiment improved significantly in the second quarter. After the tariff shocks in April, markets rebounded strongly as the Trump administration pulled back on several measures and negotiations progressed. U.S. equity markets reached new all-time highs by the end of the review period, with the S&P 500 rising by 6 percent, driven largely by the strong performance of technology and communication services sectors. For a euro-investor the U.S. Equity market return turned negative due to the strengthening of the euro. European equities outperformed U.S. markets during the same period: the STOXX index advanced by over 9 percent and the Nasdaq Helsinki rose by more than 14 percent.

Monetary policy continued to play a central role throughout the first half of the year. The European Central Bank proceeded with rate cuts in response to slowing inflation, aiming to support economic growth. The U.S. Federal Reserve, in contrast, maintained its policy rate steady while emphasizing a data-driven and cautious approach amid uncertainty.

Bond markets were mixed: the U.S. 10-year yield saw volatile movements, and growing concerns about fiscal stability contributed to Moody's decision to downgrade the country's credit rating. Investment grade corporate bonds gained 1.8 percent, while lower-rated high yield bonds rose by 2.3 percent. Euro area government bonds posted modest gains of 0.6 percent.

One of the clearest trends of H1 was the strength of the euro against the U.S. dollar. The euro appreciated by nearly 14 percent year-to-date, reflecting policy divergence and rising investor confidence in the euro area.

Portfolio management policy

According to Evli's investment philosophy, our investment activities are systematic, rigorous, and well planned in advance. We believe that active portfolio management coupled with efficient risk management yields the best result in the long run and enables us to add value to our clients' investment operations.

Evli's fund management is largely based on teamwork, and on a mutually agreed investment strategy. During the investment process, we draw up separate strategies for allocation, fixed income investments, and equity investments. Decision-making is divided up between different teams. Our allocation committee is responsible for the allocation strategy, our equity team is in charge of the investment strategy for equity portfolios, and the fixed income team draws up the fixed income strategy.

Evli Emerging Frontier

Equity fund investing in rapidly growing developing economies.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The Evli Emerging Frontier Fund finished 1H 2025 with a performance of -2.3%. While the fund does not have an official benchmark, the MSCI EM Small Cap Index also returned -2.3%. The fund's negative absolute performance in H1 2025 came as a result of global economic uncertainty stemming from the US administration's tariff agenda and the conflict between Iran and Israel.

The largest contributors to the portfolio were Newborn Town (+3.6%), Moura Dubeux (+3.0%), and Direcional Engenharia (+1.6%), whereas the biggest detractors were Air Link (-2.9%), Surya Semesta (-1.9%), and IIFL Capital Services (-1.3%). Brazil, Egypt, and Taiwan weights increased by 14%, 8%, and 7% respectively, and were offset by decreases in India, Georgia, and Indonesia by 6%, 6%, and 5% respectively. On the sector front, weights of Consumer Discretionary and Materials increased, and were offset by decreases in Financials, Real Estate, and Information Technology.

Most portfolio stocks' earnings multiples are in the single digits. The average portfolio P/E multiple is 9x, significantly lower than 24x of the MSCI EM Small Cap Index. The portfolio companies' LTM earnings growth is +25%, while the index's is -4%. The portfolio's return on equity of 18% is also more favorable than the index's 7%. We are hopeful that the market will reprice our holdings to reflect their value.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

We began the year by overweighting U.S. equities and underweighting emerging market equities. These positions were unwound, and the geographical allocation was shifted to neutral at the beginning of April. In addition, by the start of 2025, the fund had two tactical themes: the U.S. financial sector and listed European real estate companies. The financial sector theme was abandoned in April, and we continue to maintain listed European real estate companies as an equity theme.

The stock markets reacted immediately to the early April announcement of increased import tariffs, with declines of over ten percent within a few days. Since then, the stock markets have mostly shown positive development and low volatility. In the first half of the year, European and Finnish equities have performed best geographically, while U.S. equities have performed weakest.

Evli Equity Factor Europe

Equity fund that invests in European companies using a factor-based strategy.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Evli Equity Factor Europe is a European equity fund built around four academically validated investment factors: value, low risk, momentum, and quality. Aligned with responsible investment (ESG) principles, the fund excludes companies with significant involvement in areas such as weapons, alcohol, tobacco, thermal coal mining, controversial weapons, gambling, and adult entertainment. Additionally, it excludes companies with the lowest ESG ratings or those involved in severe, verified ESG controversies.

In the first half of the year, the fund delivered a strong return of +10.4%, outperforming its benchmark, the MSCI Europe, which posted a +9.1% return. This resulted in the fund exceeding the benchmark by 1.2 percentage points.

Performance attribution highlights that our underweight positions in Novo Nordisk and LVMH were the largest positive contributors to returns. Conversely, Banco Santander and Rheinmetall were the primary detractors. At the sector level, healthcare and consumer staples were the main positive contributors, while industrials and financials were the key negative ones. Notably, security selection within these sectors had a greater impact on overall sector returns than did sector allocations.

Evli Equity Factor Global

Equity fund that invests in developed markets' companies globally using a factor-based strategy.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Evli Equity Factor Global is a global equity fund built around four academically validated investment factors: value, low risk, momentum, and quality. Aligned with responsible investment (ESG) principles, the fund excludes companies with significant involvement in areas such as weapons, alcohol, tobacco, thermal coal mining, controversial weapons, gambling, and adult entertainment. Additionally, it excludes companies with the lowest ESG ratings or those involved in severe, verified ESG controversies.

In the first half of the year, the fund posted a return of -5.5%, trailing its benchmark, the MSCI World, which recorded a -3.4% return. This resulted in the fund underperforming the benchmark by 2.1%.

Performance attribution for individual stocks shows that our underweight position in Apple and a zero-weight position in Tesla were key positive drivers. Conversely, our underweight in Nvidia and an overweight in Lowe's were the largest detractors. At the sector level, financials and industrials negatively impacted relative returns, while technology and energy generated positive performance attribution. Country attribution reveals that the USA was the biggest detractor, primarily due to security selection rather than asset allocation.

Evli Equity Factor USA

Equity fund that invests in American companies using a factor-based strategy.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Evli Equity Factor USA is a US equity fund built around four academically validated investment factors: value, low risk, momentum, and quality. Aligned with responsible investment (ESG) principles, the fund excludes companies with significant involvement in areas such as weapons, alcohol, tobacco, thermal coal mining, controversial weapons, gambling, and adult entertainment. Additionally, it excludes companies with the lowest ESG ratings or those involved in severe, verified ESG controversies.

In the first half of the year, the fund returned -8.45%, trailing the MSCI USA benchmark's -6.35% by 2.1%. While the portfolio's underlying U.S. dollar performance was positive, a weakening dollar led to negative overall returns.

Our underweight position in Apple and a zero-weight position in Tesla were key positive contributors to performance attribution. Conversely, our underweight in Nvidia and a zero-weight position in Microsoft were the primary detractors from performance. At the sector level, Industrials and Technology negatively impacted returns. Conversely, Consumer Staples and Energy generated positive performance attribution.

Factor returns were predominantly negative during the first half of the year, though none experienced severe declines. The size factor lagged the most, while value and momentum factors showed the least negative impact.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

During H1 2025, stock selection in industrials and an underweight in financials weakened the return differential vs. the benchmark index the most. On the other hand, selection in sectors such as IT and consumer discretionary worked well. Geographically, selection was especially harmful in the UK and beneficial in Spain. By stock, the bottom attributors were Bunzl, Harbour Energy, and Future, while the top attributors were Indra Sistemas, Novo Nordisk (not in portfolio), and Betsson.

We exited 22 positions and entered into 18 new positions during the first half of the year. 30 positions remained the same. As a result of stock selection, the largest end-of-period country weights were in the UK and France, and the largest sector weights in industrials and IT. We invest in underpriced companies that generate cash flow and have strong debt coverage.

Evli Europe Growth

Equity fund that invests in European growth companies.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Evli Europe Growth targets large-cap European growth companies, focusing on those that demonstrate strong growth potential and consistently surpass growth expectations. The fund utilizes metrics such as investment growth and growth momentum to select holdings, with each position's weight adjusted based on market capitalization.

In the first half of the year, the Evli Europe Growth fund returned +4.4%, trailing its benchmark, the MSCI Europe, which posted a +9.1% return. This resulted in the fund underperforming the benchmark by 4.8 percentage points.

Performance attribution reveals that our overweight positions in Banco Santander and Commerzbank were the largest positive single-stock attributors. Conversely, our overweight in Novo Nordisk was the primary detractor in terms of relative returns, and the absence of a position in Rolls Royce also negatively impacted the fund. At the sector level, financials (due to both allocation and security selection) and healthcare (primarily due to allocation) were the main negative attributors, while energy provided positive attribution.

Evli Finland Select

Equity fund that invests in Finnish companies.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Finnish equities rose briskly during the first half of the year, clearly outperforming the S&P 500 index in terms of euro-denominated total return. The fund's benchmark index, the HEX CAP return index, increased by 14.4% during the first six months. During the eventful start to the year, the YTD-return ranged between -5% and +10%. The stock market euphoria following Trump's election quickly turned into tariff jitters and culminated in genuine panic after "Liberation Day" in April. However, global stock markets recovered quickly, and as the market narrative shifted regarding tariffs towards TACO (=Trump Always Chickens Out). Despite global uncertainties, the most recent example being the war between Israel and Iran, the S&P 500 index printed new all-time high at the end of June.

The fund's return, 13.7%, for the beginning of the year lagged behind the benchmark index by a margin of -0.7%. The biggest negative contributors to relative performance were the fund's underweights in Fortum and Nordea and overweights in Huhtamäki and Nokia. The main positive contributors to relative return were overweights in Puuilo, Orion, and Alma Media.

During the first half of the year, the fund's holdings in Tokmanni, Fortum, Kone, Valmet, and Konecranes were reduced. The weights of Orion and Wärtsilä were slightly increased. The fund also participated in GRK's initial public offering in April.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Finnish stocks rose sharply during the first half of the year. The fund's benchmark index increased by 10.0%, while the HEX return index rose by 14.4%. During an eventful start to the year, the YTD-returns of the aforementioned indices fluctuated between -5% and +15%. The post-Trump-election stock market euphoria quickly turned into tariff anxiety, culminating in genuine panic in April after "Liberation Day." However, global stock markets recovered quickly as the market narrative around tariffs shifted toward TACO ("Trump Always Chickens Out"). Despite global uncertainties — most recently the war between Israel and Iran — the S&P 500 index printed new all-time high at the end of June.

The fund's return, 6.6%, during the first half of the year lagged behind the benchmark's return by a margin of -3.4%. The largest negative contributors to relative performance were the portfolio's underweights in Mandatum and Outokumpu, as well as the overweight in Gofore and Detection Technology. The biggest positive contributions to relative return came from overweight positions in Orion, Puuilo, and Verkkokauppa.com.

During the first half of the year, the fund sold its holdings in Talenom, and significantly reduced its positions in Valmet and Konecranes. New additions to the portfolio include Bioretec, Aiforia Technologies, and Mandatum. The weight of Verkkokauppa.com was increased.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

During H1 2025, stock selection in consumer discretionary and energy weakened the return differential the most, while positive selection effects came for example from IT. Geographically, selection in South Korea caused the biggest harm to relative performance, while selection in Indonesia was especially advantageous. India's underweight with its currency effects was also among the most beneficial factors affecting the return differential. By stock, not holding Taiwan Semiconductor, as well as portfolio companies Asseco Poland ja Aneka Tambang were top attributors, while bottom attributors were Mr Price Group, Bumi Armada, and Migros Ticaret.

We sold 40 positions from the portfolio during the first half of the year and bought 31 new positions. 64 positions remained the same. As a result of stock selection, the largest end-of-period country weights were in China, Taiwan, and South Korea, and the largest sector weights in consumer discretionary, industrials, and IT.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

During H1 2025, stock selection in consumer discretionary and health care improved the fund's return differential vs. its benchmark the most, while the most negative effects came from selection in industrials. Geographically, selection was especially helpful in Japan, but harmful in the UK. In the US, selection effects were even more adverse, but the gain from an underweight in USD mostly canceled out that harm. By stock, the top attributors were Apple (not in portfolio), Betsson, and Tesla (not in portfolio), while the bottom attributors were

ASGN, Bunzl, and CTS.

We exited 19 positions and entered into 22 new positions during the first half of the year. 37 positions remained the same. As a result of stock selection, the largest end-of-period sector weights were in IT and consumer discretionary, and the largest country weight in the US. We invest in underpriced companies that generate cash flow and have strong debt coverage.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

During H1 2025, stock selection in health care improved the fund's return differential vs. its benchmark the most, while the most negative effects came from selection in industrials. Geographically, selection was especially helpful in Japan, but harmful in the UK. In the US, selection effects were even more adverse, but the gain from an underweight in USD mostly canceled out that harm. By stock, the most positive attribution effects came from the fact that Apple, Tesla, and Amazon.com were not in the portfolio, while the bottom attributors were ASGN, Bunzl, and CTS.

We exited 19 positions and entered into 22 new positions during the first half of the year. 34 positions remained the same. As a result of stock selection, the largest end-of-period sector weights were in IT and industrials, and the largest country weight in the US. We invest in underpriced companies that generate cash flow and have strong debt coverage.

Evli Hannibal

Equity fund that invests in European companies whose prices are not only as low as possible, but also significantly lower than historical prices.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Month +1.5% and 1H +33.4%.

At the end of June, AUM was EUR 96.2 million, and with this fund capital, the unitholders' share of the shareholders equity of the companies they own was approximately EUR 202 million, more than double. Net assets, on the other hand, are the sum of the company's historical profits and other capital raised (minus dividends distributed). Our share of our companies' 'normal annual net earnings' for the last 10 years (median, not value weighted) is €12.9 million, or the so-called 'Shiller PE'-ratio is (only) 7.4 (=96/12.9). However, the current (average) earnings of our companies are clearly weaker than in a 'normal year'. Since the market values our portfolio at less than half (!) of the sum of the profits made in the history of our companies (=net assets), it can be said that the market currently assumes, the annual results of our companies would, on average, never recover. But could it really go like that?

The low valuation of our current holdings (half of net assets and less than half of the 10 year mean) also indicates that during 1H, as is usual for the trading in this fund, we have realised gains and increased holdings where the price levels have not yet recovered (as well as acquired some new ones). The total acquisition cost of current investments (at average acquisition prices) is higher than the value of the fund.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Fund returned 9.91% in the first half of 2025. Fund's benchmark index fell by 3.82%. The fund outperformed the BM index by 13.72% in the first half of 2025. The top five positive contributors to the fund's relative outperformance were active holdings such as Spie, Robinhood Markets, Maire and Iberdrola, as well as the absence of Apple from the fund. Stock selection worked out extremely well on both sector and country level during the first six months.

At the beginning of 2025, the fund had significantly reduced its weighting in the US and increased its weighting in Europe, particularly in France and Italy. Similarly, the weighting in the IT and healthcare sectors decreased. Fund has kept large overweight in Industrial and Material sectors. The fund's stock selection, sector and country allocations are driven by its investment objective of actively selecting a thematic equity portfolio that generates an attractive financial return. The fund invests globally in growing, financially sound companies that contribute to the transition to a low-carbon economy and human development.

The fund's active share is 89.5%. Large caps account for 76% of the fund (market cap over EUR 5 billion). The fund size is EUR 38.5 million. Since its launch, the fund has increased by 24.94%, outperforming the BM by 1.95% (B class share).

HALF YEAR COMMENT

During H1 2025, stock selection improved the return differential, especially in consumer discretionary and industrials. Sector weights, such as an overweight in consumer discretionary, undermined the relative performance somewhat. By stock, top attributors were Toyota Motor (not in portfolio), Koei Tecmo Holdings and Namura Shipbuilding, while the most negative attribution effects came from the fact that Nintendo and Mitsubishi Heavy Industries were not in the portfolio, and from our investment in Seiko Epson.

We exited 29 positions and entered into 28 new positions during the first half of the year. 20 positions remained the same. As a result of stock selection, the largest end-of-period sector weights were in consumer discretionary, industrials, and IT, and small and mid caps had an important role in the portfolio. We invest in underpriced companies that generate cash flow and have strong debt coverage.

Evli Nordic

Equity fund that invests in Nordic companies.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

During H1 2025, factors improving the fund's return differential vs. its benchmark included selection and underweight in health care and selection and overweight in consumer staples, while a lack of investment in financials and selection in industrials, for example, undermined the return differential. Geographically, stock selection was successful in Denmark, whereas weak selection in Norway clearly outweighed the benefit of the country's overweight. Selection in Sweden was also advantageous, although that was canceled out by the harmful effects of an underweight in SEK. By stock, the top attributors were Novo Nordisk (not in portfolio), Betsson, and Loomis, while the bottom attributors were the fact that Nordea Bank and Saab were not in the portfolio, and our portfolio company Instalco.

We exited 16 positions and entered into 22 new positions during the first half of the year. 19 positions remained the same. As a result of stock selection, the largest end-of-period sector weight was in industrials, while the largest country weight was in Sweden. We invest in underpriced companies that generate cash flow and have strong debt coverage.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The Nordic stock markets rose modestly during the first half of the year. The fund's benchmark index increased by 4.7%, while the VINX declined by 0.6%. During an eventful start to the year, the YTD returns of the aforementioned indices fluctuated between +10% and -15%. The post-Trump-election stock market euphoria quickly turned into tariff anxiety, culminating in genuine panic in April after "Liberation Day." However, global stock markets recovered quickly as the market narrative regarding tariffs shifted towards TACO ("Trump Always Chickens Out"). Despite global uncertainties — most recently the war between Israel and Iran — the S&P 500 index printed new all-time high at the end of June.

The fund's return, 6.1%, during the first half of the year exceeded the benchmark's return by a margin of +1.4%. The largest positive contributors to relative return were the portfolio's overweight positions in Dynavox, Clas Ohlson, and Asker Healthcare. The biggest detractors from relative performance were overweight positions in MedCap, Xvivo, and Hexagon Composites.

During the first half of the year, the fund sold its holdings in Canatu, Embla Medical, Hexagon Composites, Hemnet, MedCap, Sectra, and Vend Marketplaces (formerly Schibsted). New additions to the portfolio include Asker Healthcare, RaySearch Laboratories, Loomis, BHG Group, Medicover, Devyser Diagnostics, and GRK.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

During H1 2025, stock selection weakened the fund's return differential vs. its benchmark. Harmful selection effects came, for example, from industrials, IT, and consumer discretionary, while selection worked best in health care. By stock, the bottom attributors were Apogee Enterprises, Steven Madden, and United Therapeutics, while the top attributors were Apple (not in portfolio), Magnite, and Tesla (not in portfolio).

We exited 51 positions and entered into 53 new positions during the first half of the year. 47 positions remained the same. As a result of stock selection, the largest end-of-period sector weights were in industrials and consumer discretionary. We invest in underpriced companies that generate cash flow and have strong debt coverage.

Evli Silver and Gold

Equity fund that invests in gold and silver mining companies globally.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Month: Fund (IB), Gold, Silver, Platinum, and EURUSD 5.8, 0.3, 8.8, 26.1, and 3.9%. 1H: 37.7, 25.9, 24.5, 47.7, and 13.9%. Inception: 520, 197, 153, 60, and 9%.

Main event was perhaps the good development of silver and especially platinum, catching up to gold. The gold/silver price ratio has exceeded 100 a few times in the 2020s. In the last 100 years, this has otherwise only happened in 1940 and 1990. The median level for the entire 20th century was 47:1. In ancient times (e.g.

Roman Empire) and before the modern era (e.g. US Coinage Act, 1792) ratio was about 12-15:1, which corresponds quite well to the "geological" ratio of the metals (occurrence). The historical ratio of the platinum price to gold, on the other hand, has been approx. 1.4. In the spring, the ratio had dropped below 0.3 (!). We own a lot of silver mines, (note, however, that there are hardly any pure silver miners in the world) and 11.4 % of the fund is in platinum mines.

The USD has recently weakened a lot (not least against gold). The so-called de-dollarization talk has been on the agenda for some time. But what would this mean in practice, what would be the real alternative to the USD? Euro, pound, yen, yuan? Somehow hard to see. What do we want to say? That we can well imagine that the dollar will fall a lot against gold, but that it would also do so against other currencies, is more complicated.

Evli Swedish Small Cap

Equity fund that invests in small and medium-sized Swedish companies (SEK-denominated).

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The Swedish stock market rose modestly during the first half of the year. The fund's benchmark index increased by 2.2%, while Stockholm's main index (OMX) rose by 3.7%. During an eventful start to the year, the YTD-returns of the aforementioned indices fluctuated between +10% and -10%. The post-Trump-election stock market euphoria quickly turned into tariff anxiety, culminating in genuine panic in April after the "Liberation Day." However, global stock markets recovered quickly as the market narrative shifted towards TACO ("Trump Always Chickens Out") regarding tariffs. Despite global uncertainties — most recently the war between Israel and Iran — the S&P 500 index printed new all-time high at the end of June.

The fund's return, 3.0%, during the first half of the year exceeded the benchmark's return by a margin of +0.8%. The largest positive contributors to relative return were the portfolio's overweight positions in Dynavox and Clas Ohlson, as well as the absence of Volvo Cars. The biggest detractors from relative performance were overweight positions in MedCap, Xvivo, and NCAB.

During the first half of the year, the fund sold its holdings in Beijer Ref, MedCap, Nibe, Hemnet, Vitrolife, and Sectra. New additions to the portfolio include Asker Healthcare, RaySearch Laboratories, Loomis, BHG Group, Bonesupport, and Devyser Diagnostics.

Evli UK Value Fund

Equity fund that invests in British publicly traded companies, focusing on those with the lowest possible price.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Fund (IB) +2.78% in June and +9.45% during 1H25. The return was burdened by the 3.2% weakening of the GBP/EUR. Since inception, the fund has returned +48.49%. This return lifts the fund to the top of its Morningstar peer group (UK Mid Cap Equity, 119 funds. Source: ft.com) since inception.

In June, nine holdings rose by more than 10% and six fell by more than 10%. Gainers: Fresnillo, Costain Group, IP Group, Hunting, Videndum, Hostelworld Group, Jupiter Fund Management, James Fisher & Son and RWS Holdings. Losers: Petra Diamonds, NAHL Group, PZ Cussons, GB Group, Kenmare Resources and Rockhopper Exploration. At the end of June, the fund's investments amounted to €26.1 million and the share of shareholders equity of its holdings was €33.4 million. The upside to the historical mean P/B-ratio is 79% and to the highest level of the last 10y 215%. On average, current share prices of the holdings are 41%, 43% and 65% lower than 3, 5 and 10 years ago.

The UK economy grew by 0.7% during Q125 which, perhaps somewhat surprisingly, was the best Q1 growth figure of the G7 countries. The IMF has raised the country's full-year growth forecast to 1.2%. From our point of view, however, the biggest issues remain the country's government bond market and exchange rate, which, despite the better state of central government finances compared to larger economic areas, are more fragile.

Evli USA Growth targets large-cap U.S. growth companies, focusing on those that demonstrate strong growth potential and consistently surpass growth expectations. The fund utilizes metrics such as investment growth and growth momentum to select holdings, with each position's weight adjusted based on market capitalization.

In the first half of the year, the Evli USA Growth (B-series) fund's return of -6.14% outperformed its benchmark, the MSCI USA Index (-6.35%), by 20 basis points. While the portfolio's underlying performance in U.S. dollar terms was positive, the weakening dollar during this period ultimately resulted in negative overall reported returns.

Performance attribution analysis reveals that our 0% weight in Tesla along with an overweight position in Nvidia were key positive contributors to the fund's relative outperformance. Conversely, holdings in Adobe and Merck were the most significant negative contributors.

Looking at sectoral attribution, the technology sector was the largest detractor; this was predominantly due to individual security selection within the sector, rather than the overall sector allocation decision. In contrast, healthcare and consumer cyclicals were the top positive contributors, where strong security selection was the primary driver, with the allocation effect playing a minimal role.

Evli Finland Mix

Balanced fund that invests in Finnish equities and euro area fixed income instruments.

Finnish equities rose briskly during the first half of the year, clearly outperforming the S&P 500 index in terms of euro-denominated total return. The fund's benchmark index, the HEX Cap return index, increased by 14.4% during the first six months. Investment grade spreads tightened 11 basis points (bps) during the first half, as credit markets rallied after the havoc caused by Trump's tariff announcements in April. High yield spreads ended the month 16 bps wider even after the rally from mid-April onwards. The yield on the German 10-year bond rose 24 basis points.

The fund performed inline with the benchmark index with return of 6%. Within the equity portfolio, the biggest contributors to relative performance were our overweights in Orion and newly listed GRK. The biggest drags on relative performance within equities were our underweight in Fortum overweight in Stora Enso. In the fixed income portfolio, unrated bonds (Finnair, PVO) impacted relative performance positively while longer end bonds (Tornator, UPM) dragged relative performance.

The fund participated in GRK's initial public offering in April.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The year 2025 was started with an opportunistic position: overweight in equities and, within fixed income investments, overweight in High Yield corporate bonds. In February, equities were moved from overweight to neutral due to short-term uncertainty and a skewed risk/return profile. At the beginning of April, just before U.S. President Donald Trump's announcement regarding increased import tariffs, we further reduced the equity weighting and at the same time moved the risk weighting of fixed income investments to neutral. We began the year by overweighting U.S. equities and underweighting emerging market equities. These positions were closed and the geographical allocation was shifted to neutral at the beginning of April.

The stock markets reacted immediately to the early April announcement of increased import tariffs, with declines of over ten percent within a few days. Since then, the stock markets have mostly shown positive development and low volatility. In the first half of the year, European and Finnish equities have performed best geographically. The fixed income markets have shown positive development across the board.

We underweight equities. Within equities we are neutral in different geographical markets. We have the listed European real estate firms as an equity theme. Within fixed income we are also neutral in different fixed income classes.

Evli Optimal Allocation

Evli Optimal Allocation is an active fund of funds that diversifies its investments globally in the equity and fixed income markets, emphasizing different geographical areas, asset classes and investment styles in accordance with the market situation.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The year 2025 was started with an opportunistic position: overweight in equities and, within fixed income investments, overweight in High Yield corporate bonds. In February, equities were moved from overweight to neutral due to short-term uncertainty and a skewed risk/return profile. At the beginning of April, just before U.S. President Donald Trump's announcement regarding increased import tariffs, we further reduced the equity weighting and at the same time moved the risk weighting of fixed income investments to neutral. We began the year by overweighting U.S. equities and underweighting emerging market equities. These positions were closed and the geographical allocation was shifted to neutral at the beginning of April.

The stock markets reacted immediately to the early April announcement of increased import tariffs, with declines of over ten percent within a few days. Since then, the stock markets have mostly shown positive development and low volatility. In the first half of the year, European and Finnish equities have performed best geographically. The fixed income markets have shown positive development across the board.

We underweight equities. Within equities we are neutral in different geographical markets. We have the listed European real estate firms as an equity theme. Within fixed income we are also neutral in different fixed income classes.

Evli Q7

Balanced fund that invests globally in equities and fixed income instruments.

The first half of 2025 has been exceptionally volatile in the financial markets. The global economy is slowing, but a recession is unlikely. Western economic growth will remain below 1 % in 2025, with recovery expected in 2026. Trade tensions are easing as major tariff risks have not materialized. Inflation is expected to stay elevated, as U.S. tariffs are raising goods prices. The U.S. Federal Reserve is unlikely to lower interest rates before autumn.

Equity markets have rebounded from spring lows, especially driven by U.S. technology stocks supported by AI developments. In fixed income, long-term rates remain high due to higher risk premiums and public finance concerns. Markets have adjusted well to tariffs and political uncertainty. Investors expect moderate growth but still trust in corporate earnings—particularly in technology.

The strategy of the Evli Q7 fund is based on a balanced risk-return ratio, allocating investments mainly between fixed income and equities with a systematic and diversified approach. The fund's early 2025 performance has been positive, at about +0.7–0.9 % depending on the series. During the review period, the fund's average equity weighting was about 32 %, reflecting a cautious approach.

Evli Corporate Bond

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in European corporate bonds with both low and high credit ratings.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The first half of 2025 was favourable for risk-oriented assets. The European Central Bank reduced its key interest rate by 1 percentage point, with an additional 0.25% cut anticipated in the second half of the year. Yield curves have since normalised. While spreads widened significantly following Trump's "Liberation Day," they recovered promptly. Company credit fundamentals remained robust. Investment grade spreads tightened by 10 basis points, whereas high yield spreads widened by 7 basis points.

Year-to-date, the 2025 return was 1.68% (B series), marginally trailing the index return of 1.84%. Allocations to high yield and non-rated bonds delivered strong performance. In the first half of 2025, mid-curve bonds were added to the portfolio to capitalise on normalization of the yield curves. Following the April sell-off, we increased exposure to high yield and non-rated bonds. Investment grade bonds continue to be viewed favorably for their relative attractiveness, but continue to increase our high yield weighting in times of weakness

As of the reporting period, the fund's yield to maturity (YTM) stood at 3.93%, with a modified duration of 3.84.

Evli Emerging Markets Credit

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in the emerging markets with both low and high credit ratings.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Despite an eventful first half of 2025, the emerging economies corporate bond market performed strongly. Supported by a very strong June, the fund's return was 3.13%, compared to the benchmark index's 3.09%. Outperformance was primarily driven by issuer selection within high yield bonds and an overweight in investment grade bonds with longer maturities. On the other hand, the fund gained underperformance at the short end of the curve due to an underweight there.

We have maintained an attractive yield in the fund by increasing credit risk at the short end with high yield investments, and by adding weight to longer-dated, investment grade bonds. This approach is based on the still attractive yield levels in the United States as well as the current relatively low credit spreads. At the end of the month, the fund's currency-hedged yield was 4.79% and duration was 4.9.

Key market themes for the remainder of the year continue to be the development of the U.S. economy and trade policy, both of which also influence central bank monetary policy. In addition, geopolitical tensions in the Middle East are impacting the asset class, for example through fluctuations in oil prices. Corporate credit quality remains strong, and we believe the asset class will continue to offer investors attractive returns in the second half of the year.

Evli Euro Government Bond

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in EEA member state euro-denominated bonds with high credit ratings.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

Long-term euro rates have been very stable during the first half of the year, with the exception of the Trump-related turbulence in early March. Since Germany announced a significant increase in borrowing for the coming years, the 10-year Bund yield has consistently remained above the 2.50% level. This development has provided additional support for spread tightening in other Eurozone sovereign bonds, which has continued gradually. At times, the correlation between euro long rates and the U.S. 10-year yield—traditionally a key driver—has even turned negative, which is surprising. Then again, in today's environment, almost anything seems possible. Economic growth in the Eurozone is nearly flat, yet employment remains strong across the region, despite notable differences between countries. As a result, consumer demand has not collapsed. However, uncertainty related to tariffs continues to keep investment levels moderate. The fund has been managed primarily through interest rate risk adjustments, rather than changes in country allocations. With the policy rate now at a neutral level, and assuming no major shifts in the growth outlook or inflation (which remains close to 2%), further rate cuts are unlikely.

Evli Euro Liquidity

Short-term fixed income fund that invests in Nordic euro-denominated fixed income instruments.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The key themes in Euro area short-term rates during the first half of the year were the anticipated rate cuts by the ECB and the erratic political climate in the U.S., which caused volatility across all capital markets. The ECB's policy rate has now reached a neutral level, and further cuts may not be seen for a while unless growth figures deteriorate significantly. Eurozone consumers remain cautious, and uncertainty related to tariffs continues to dampen investment appetite. However, the region has not slipped into recession. A few episodes of market turbulence in the spring provided attractive buying opportunities in an otherwise overbought market. The credit spread tightening that began last autumn continued throughout the first half of the year. The market appears to be flush with liquidity, with little need to sell except during panic periods. The Likvidi fund took advantage of these weaker market moments and successfully increased interest rate risk to the target level, exceeding 0.5. New issues are now mostly concentrated at the long end of the yield curve, and the fund has not participated in these. On the money market side, conditions remain calm. Existing positions have been rolled over, but new supply is scarce, reflecting companies' moderate working capital needs.

Evli European High Yield

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in European corporate bonds with low credit ratings.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

First half of 2025 was good for risky assets. The ECB reduced its key interest rate by 1 percentage point, with one more 0.25% cut expected for the second half. Yield curves have now normalized. Spreads widened meaningfully after Trump’s “Liberation Day” but recovered quickly. Company credit fundamentals have remained healthy. High yield spreads widened by 7 basis points.

The 2025 year-to-date return was 2.91% (B series), ahead of the index return of 2.74%. T. The best relative return came from banking, where AT1s performed better than the index bonds. The weakest relative return came from retail where the fund has a significant underweight. In the first half of the year, we cut our holdings in Real Estate and other Investment Grade bonds due to tightened spreads. Especially after the sell-off in April we increased risk in the portfolio by buying more B-rated bonds from new issues. New issue market activity has been on/off depending on market sentiment. During the first half of 2025 we bought mid-curve bonds that should benefit from the normalized yield curve. Currently, the best risk-return ratio is found in higher-quality high yield companies. Low cash prices still support the market, and we believe 2026 will be favorable for high yield investors.

The fund's yield to maturity (YTM) was 6.21% and its modified duration was 2.29.

Evli European Investment Grade

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in European corporate bonds with high credit ratings.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The first half of the year was characterized by Trump's foreign and trade policy. The reduction of military support in Europe led to a historic change in Germany's budget policy, sharply increasing German interest rates in March, and the announcement of import tariffs threw the markets into chaos in April. However, the recovery in yield spreads was swift, and the Investment Grade market tightened by 11 basis points (bps) since the start of the year. The yield on the German 10-year yield rose by 21 bps during the period.

The fund returned 1.44% (B share class) in the first half of the year, falling short of the benchmark's return of 1.84%. A lower weight in ultra-long maturities compared to the benchmark and successful selections in financial services contributed positively, while the overweight in telecommunication and the underweight in banks had a negative impact.

The most significant allocation changes during the first half of the year were the decrease in the weight of the telecommunication sector (-1.9%) and financial services (-1.3%), and increases in the weights of real estate (+1.6%) and retail (+2%).

Evli Green Corporate Bond

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in European green corporate bonds.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The European Central Bank cut rates four times at the beginning of the year, bringing the deposit rate down to 2.00%, while long-term rates rose. A shift in Germany's fiscal policy and increasing EU defense spending pushed long-term rates higher. Tariffs announced by President Trump caused market panic in April, leading to a sharp widening of credit spreads. However, as Trump was forced to back down on his demands, markets quickly recovered. Investment grade (IG) credit spreads narrowed by 11 basis points (bps) in the first half of the year, tightening by 36 bps from their April peaks. High yield spreads widened by 16 bps during the same period.

The fund returned 1.53% in the first half of the year (B share class), falling short of the benchmark return. The relative underperformance was negatively impacted by underweights in banks and the automotive sector. On the other hand, overweights in capital goods and basic industry contributed positively to relative performance. Additionally, successful bond selection in telecommunications had a positive impact.

The primary market was strong in the first half of the year; IG issuance grew by nearly 15% compared to last year. The most significant changes in sector allocation were increased weights in banks (+1.9%) and real estate (+1.2%), and decreased weights in the automotive sector (-1.3%) and basic industry (-1.0%).

Evli Nordic Corporate Bond

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in Nordic corporate bonds.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

In the first half of 2025, the ECB lowered its key interest rates four times, while long-term rates rose slightly. As a result, the shape of the yield curve normalized. Credit spreads widened rapidly after U.S. tariff news in April, but overall, spreads narrowed during the early part of the year. The fundamentals of companies remained stable.

The fund's return since the beginning of the year was +2.2% (B series). The best returns came from bonds in the service and technology sectors. The primary market was very active, and the fund participated in dozens of new issues during the first half of the year.

The credit quality in the fund has remained better than before, and the weight of BBB-rated holdings also increased slightly. In terms of sector weights, utilities became the largest sector. At the end of June, the fund's yield level was 4.2% and the interest rate duration was 2.0.

Evli Nordic High Yield

Long-term fixed income fund that invests in Nordic corporate bonds with low credit ratings.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

In the first half of 2025, the ECB lowered its key interest rates four times, while long-term rates rose slightly. As a result, the shape of the yield curve normalized. Credit spreads widened rapidly after U.S. tariff news in April, but overall, spreads narrowed during the early part of the year. The fundamentals of companies remained stable.

The fund's return since the beginning of the year was +2.1% (B series). The fund's rules changed on February 3, 2025, and after this, it was converted into a Nordic high yield portfolio. Most purchases were made from new issues, of which there were plenty in the early part of the year. This enabled the cost-effective creation of a diversified high yielding portfolio, with an average credit quality corresponding to B+ level. Based on company selection, the largest sectors became basic industry, services, and technology. In all of these sectors, the selections focused on service businesses. The fund's yield level was about 6.7% hedged to euros. The interest rate duration was 0.6 at the end of June.

Evli Nordic Senior Secured Loan

Fixed income fund that invests in the Nordic leveraged loan markets.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The fund continued to implement its investment strategy initiated on August 31, 2021, focusing on making new credit investments in senior secured loans and secured floating-rate high yield bonds issued by Nordic borrowers.

The fund's deployment percentage was approximately 98% (including investments and investment commitments) as of June 30, 2025. Approximately 70% of investments were comprised of senior secured loan instruments and 30% of floating-rate high yield bonds. 100% of investments were focused on floating-rate and senior secured instruments. The investments have been primarily within stable, non-cyclical Nordic industry sectors and companies. The fund has actively avoided investing in companies with sensitivity to global trade war and rapid changes in consumer behavior. During the first half of the year there were no material changes in the industry sector weights of the investment portfolio.

At the end of June, the fund's yield to maturity was 6.80%, and its modified duration was 0.21. The performance of the fund (B series) over the last 6 months was +3.04% and +6.89% over the last 12 months after fees. Performance was positively impacted by the stable performance of the underlying credit investments and negatively by short-term interest rates cuts. Credit quality has remained very strong during the first half of the year.

Evli Short Corporate Bond

Fixed income fund that invests in short-maturity corporate bonds in a diversified manner.

HALF YEAR COMMENT

The first half of the year was characterized by Trump's foreign and trade policy. The reduction of military support in Europe resulted in a historic change in Germany's budget policy, sharply raising German interest rates in March, and the announcement of import tariffs threw the markets into chaos in April. However, the recovery in yield spreads was rapid, and the Investment Grade market tightened by 11 basis points (bps) since the turn of the year. High Yield, on the other hand, remained 16 bps wider than at the start of the year.

The return for the beginning of the year was 2.03% (B share class), inline with the benchmark return of 2.04%. The most positive attribution to performance came from successful selections in capital goods and financial services. The main negative impact on relative performance was due to an underweight in banks.

The biggest change in sector allocation was a 2.6 percentage point decrease in the weight of capital goods, and increases in the weights of real estate (+2.5%) and telecommunication (+2.2%). In capital goods, part of the change can be explained by matured bonds that were not refinanced with new bonds. Due to maturities, the weight of Finnish corporate bonds in the portfolio also declined compared to the start of the year.

Dictionary

Active Share, % measures how much fund portfolio (based on position weights) differs from the benchmark index. If active fund has same shares with same position weights as in benchmark, then its' active share is 0%. If active share % is high, fund portfolio differs largely from the benchmark.

Alpha describes the effect of the portfolio manager's investment choices on the fund's return compared with the return of an index portfolio with corresponding market risk, i.e. the additional returns attained by the fund in relation to its market risk.

Beta describes the sensitivity of the fund's value to changes in the benchmark index. If the value of the benchmark index changes by one percent, the expected change in the fund's value is beta x 1 percent. On average, the fund's value will change more than the value of the benchmark index if the beta value is greater than 1. A beta value less than 1 indicates the opposite, i.e. that the fund's value will change less than the benchmark value.

Carbon Footprint Evli uses weighted average carbon intensity to measure the carbon footprint according to the recommendations of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD). The funds holdings' carbon intensity figures are based on the emissions figures produced by MSCI.

Duration measures the average repayment term (in years) of a fixed income instrument. Modified duration indicates the price sensitivity of a fixed income security to changes in interest rates. The higher the duration number, the greater the interest rate risk of the fund portfolio.

Information Ratio describes the long-term ability of a portfolio manager to add value through active portfolio management. If the Information Ratio is zero, the long-term return of the fund equals that of the benchmark index. In practice this means that the fund has outperformed the benchmark index, on average, for five years out of ten. The higher the Information Ratio, the greater the probability that the fund will outperform its benchmark. With an IR of 0.5 the fund has outperformed the benchmark, on average, in seven years out of ten, and with an IR of 1.0 in 8.5 years out of ten.

OAS describes average credit spread to similar maturity government bonds in basis points (0.01 percentage points). Measures the excess yield of corporate bonds to risk free rate.

Portfolio Turnover is a measure of the length of time that a security remains in a portfolio during a given period. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated by subtracting the sum of subscriptions and redemptions of fund units (EUR S+T) from the sum of the securities bought and sold by the fund (EUR X+Y). The turnover is the abovementioned difference divided by the average market value of the fund, which has been calculated from the daily market values over the past 12 months. For example, if all assets have been sold and bought once it would equal to a turnover rate of 1. Portfolio turnover rate = $((X + Y) - (S + T)) / M \times 100 / 2$, where X = Securities bought, Y = Securities sold, S = Fund's fund units issued / subscribed, T = Fund's fund units cancelled / redeemed, M = Average total value of net assets.

R2 (R-squared) describes the extent to which the fund's performance is dependent on the performance of the benchmark index. R-squared is the square of the correlation coefficient.

SFDR In accordance with the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR), article 8 funds promote sustainability factors among other features, and article 9 funds aim to make sustainable investments. Other funds address only sustainability risks in their investments decisions (article 6 funds).

Sharpe Ratio indicates the size of return relative to risk taken. The Sharpe ratio measures the fund's return (with volatility of one percent) in excess of a risk-free return. The higher the Sharpe ratio, the more favorable the relationship between return and risk.

TER (Total Expense Ratio) is a measure of a fund's total expenses in relation to its average assets and is expressed as an annualized percentage. The expenses include all the fund's management and custody fees and any profit-related fees. Securities commissions are excluded. $TER = A + B + C + D$, where A = Management fee charged from the fund's assets, B = Custodian fee that may be charged separately from the fund's assets, C = Account maintenance and other bank charges that may be charged from the fund's assets, D = Any other fees which, according to the fund's rules, are charged directly from the fund's assets. As a rule, funds registered in Finland do not make such charges on top of trading fees.

Tracking Error indicates the risk of active portfolio management in relation to the risk of the benchmark index. The higher the number, the more the fund's performance differs from the benchmark's performance. If the tracking error is 5%, the fund's return will deviate in about two years out of three $\pm$ 5% of the benchmark's return. The tracking error is zero if the relative weights of the fund's investments are exactly the same as in the benchmark index. Tracking error increases if investment weights are changed relative to the weights of the benchmark index.

Volatility is a risk measure generally used in financial markets. It reflects variability in the return of an investment or a portfolio. The higher the volatility, the greater the variability in return and the risk involved. If the fund's expected return is 12% and the volatility is 20%, then the fund's return for two years out of three is $12 \pm 20\%$, that is, between -8% and +32%. Volatility is calculated on the basis of the standard deviation of weekly returns and expressed as an annual percentage.

Yield (YTM) Estimated annual rate of return to maturity (yield to maturity).

YTW Lowest estimated annual rate of return, if bonds are callable before maturity date (yield to worst).

Green bonds are bond instruments where the proceeds are earmarked to projects or activities with environmental benefits.

Sustainability bonds are instruments where the proceeds are earmarked to a combination of projects or activities with environmental or social benefits.
