ESG Glossary

Carbon intensity

The carbon intensity of the portfolio is defined as the weighted sum, based on their weight in the portfolio, of the carbon intensities of the underlying assets within the portfolio's carbon pocket.

- Scope 1: direct GHG emissions from fixed or mobile installations controlled by the company.
- Scope 2: indirect emissions related to the production of imported electricity, heat, or steam for the organization's activities.
- Scope 3: indirect upstream and downstream emissions.

Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi)

Science Based Targets initiative is an international climate action organisation that develops standards, tools and advice that enable companies to set greenhouse gas (GHG) emission reduction targets based on climate science and what is needed to reach the target of net zero by 2050 at the latest.

- Target Set: Corporate targets are clearly defined and science based programmes to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions that have been reviewed and validated by SBTi. The objectives of these undertakings are expressed by temperature alignments.
- Committed: Commitments represent a company's intention to develop objectives and submit them for validation within 24 months. These companies do not yet have targets validated by SBTi.

Transition category "Asset Stranding"

Asset Stranding refers to assets that lose value due to a negative change in the market to which they are exposed (legislation, environmental constraints, technological breakthroughs) resulting in a significant devaluation (e.g. companies that own coal mines).

European Taxonomy

It is a standard common to the European Union, making it possible to determine the "sustainable" nature of an economic activity on the basis of standardised criteria, thus avoiding differences in measurement. Taxonomy alignment measures the contribution of an economic activity to six defined sustainability objectives: climate change mitigation and adaptation; sustainable use and protection of water and marine resources; transition to a circular economy; pollution prevention and control; and protection and restoration of biodiversity and ecosystems. Taxonomy alignment can be calculated as a share of a company's turnover (at a given time), but also as a share of its CapEx (forward-looking vision of the direction and trajectory initiated by the companies).

Water risk and opportunity management assessment

This is the assessment of companies' water risk and opportunity management practices. The Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP) rating system has 4 maturity levels:

- Leadership: best practices, transparency and performance
- Management: taking action to limit its impact
- Awareness: understanding, measurement and reporting
- Disclosure: start of the process
- Not assessed: lack of information for assessment

SFDR articles

- Article 6: the financial product does not necessarily promote ESG characteristics or have specific sustainable investment objectives.
- Article 8: the financial product promotes certain environmental and social characteristics.
- Article 9: the financial product has sustainable investment objectives.
