Key Contributors

Acutaas Chemicals is a leading R&D-driven specialty chemicals manufacturer, with exposure to advanced pharmaceutical intermediates as well as agrochemical and fine chemical segments. The company has delivered strong double-digit growth in recent years, driven by its Contract Development and Manufacturing (CDMO) business. It continues to build a robust pipeline, with four products already validated in FY26 and meaningful revenue contribution expected from FY27 onwards. Management also guides for margin expansion in this segment, supported by portfolio rationalisation and a declining mix of lower-margin products. In addition, Acutaas is expanding into semiconductor specialty chemicals through its subsidiary BFC and South Korean JV Indichem, where initial client traction has been encouraging across South Korea, Japan, and Taiwan. Capex is expected to be completed by end-CY2026, with revenues commencing from CY2027. Supported by a strong order book, management has revised its FY26 revenue growth guidance upward from 25% to ~30% and upgraded EBITDA margin guidance to 32%–35%, which has likely led to the recent outperformance.

Bharat Electronics Limited (BEL) is a leading Indian state-owned aerospace and defence company under the Ministry of Defence. The company designs, develops, and manufactures a wide range of defence electronics systems, including radars, communication equipment, electronic warfare and missile systems. BEL plays a critical role in key strategic programs for the Indian armed forces, such as the Akash missile system and various radar platforms. In recent years, the company has also expanded its presence in civilian and export markets. Recent geopolitical developments have led to an increased focus on defence preparedness, improving order visibility for the company. This, along with strong operating performance in the latest quarter, has supported the stock's outperformance.

Aditya Infotech (CP Plus) is India's leading provider of video security and surveillance solutions, serving both enterprise and consumer segments with a nationwide presence. A key growth catalyst has been the STQC (Standardisation Testing and Quality Certification) regulation, under which the government mandated certification for all network CCTV cameras from April 2025, effectively phasing out low-cost, non-compliant imports and driving demand toward certified systems. CP Plus, with the largest STQC-certified portfolio, has been a key beneficiary, gaining significant market share—rising to ~38.9% by Q2 FY26 from ~20% in Q4 FY25. This momentum is reflected in the financial performance, with profits up ~139% YoY and sales growing over 37% in Q3 FY26, keeping the company on track to deliver its FY26 revenue growth guidance of 25–30%. This strong operating performance has likely been a key driver of the stock's outperformance during the quarter.

Key Detractors

Bajaj Finserv is a leading diversified financial services firm with three key business units: (1) Bajaj Finance, (2) Bajaj Allianz General Insurance (BAGIC), and (3) Bajaj Allianz Life Insurance (BALIC). Bajaj Finance (BAF) is India's leading consumer lending franchise. Leveraging its industry-leading technology deployment, it straddles across consumer, SME, commercial, rural, and mortgage segments with an enviable track record of prudent risk management. Bajaj Finance is expected to grow at 1.5x system credit growth and is expected to deliver an ROE of 20-22% over the next few years. BAGIC, the group's multiline general insurance business, is the second largest and among the most profitable private general insurance companies in India. BALIC, the group's life insurance company, continues to see strong growth and improving profitability and has the potential to scale up multifold over time. While we remain optimistic about the long-term prospects of these businesses, we believe the stock's underperformance is driven by concerns around the evolving geopolitical environment and the potential deterioration in asset quality at BAF.

FirstSource is a diversified BPO (business process outsourcing) provider undergoing a management-led turnaround under CEO Ritesh Idnani, who brings a strong execution track record. The leadership team has been strengthened with senior hires from tier-1 firms such as Infosys, TCS, and Accenture, driving improvements in go-to-market strategy, solutioning, client engagement, and operational efficiency. The company is pivoting toward higher-quality revenues and margins through investments in new verticals, AI-led offerings, and evolving contract structures. These initiatives are expected to support strong cash flow growth over the medium term. Recent underperformance reflects broader concerns around growth prospects for the IT/BPO services sector, particularly amid rapid advancements in AI capabilities.

Intellect Design Arena is a financial services software company and a leading provider of transaction banking solutions, which contribute ~45% of its revenue. The company has also expanded meaningfully across other product suites, including payments, retail banking, digital banking, and insurance. Over the past decade, Intellect has invested over $200 million in product R&D, building strong referenceability across global markets, supported by a marquee client base that includes JP Morgan, HSBC, and Barclays. It has further strengthened its product stack through platforms such as Purple Fabric, eMACH, and iTurmeric. Profitability has improved significantly in recent years, with operating margins expanding from single digits to ~20%+, driven by a sharper focus on sales execution and operational efficiencies. The company continues to see steady deal wins, strong traction in newer product solutions, and improved execution across key business metrics. However, recent stock underperformance reflects broader concerns around growth of software providers, particularly amid rising competitive intensity driven by advancements in AI.

Key risk factors:

Market and Selection Risk: Market risk is the risk that the market will go down in value, with the possibility that such changes will be sharp and unpredictable. Selection risk is the risk that the investments that a Fund's portfolio managers select will underperform the market or other funds with similar investment strategies.

Geographical Risk: The value of the Fund's securities may be affected by social, political and economic developments and laws relating to foreign investment in India. There is no guarantee that the rapid growth experienced by the Indian economy will continue. Investment in markets such as India may expose the Fund to more volatility than investment in more stable markets. Indian stock markets have experienced problems such as exchange closures, broker defaults, settlement delays, work stoppages and trading improprieties that, if they reoccurred, could have a negative impact on the liquidity and value of the Fund. Furthermore, accounting and auditing standards in India may be different and less stringent than in other countries.

Currency Risk: Many of the Fund's investments will be denominated in currencies other than the currency of the share class purchased by the investor which may be affected by adverse currency movements. The Fund will not attempt to hedge against currency fluctuations.

Derivatives Risk: The Fund may invest in financial derivative instruments (FDIs) to hedge against risk and/or to increase return. The use of derivatives may create leverage that could magnify both gains and losses. There is no guarantee that the Fund's use of derivatives for either purpose will be successful. Derivatives are subject to counterparty risk (including potential loss of instruments) and are highly sensitive to underlying price movements, interest rates and market volatility and therefore come with a greater risk.

Operational Risk (including safekeeping of assets): The Fund and its assets may experience material losses as a result of technology/system failures, cybersecurity breaches, human error, policy breaches, and/or incorrect valuation of units.

Liquidity Risk: The Fund may invest in securities which may, due to negative market conditions, become difficult to sell or may need to be sold at an unfavourable price. This may affect the overall value of the Fund. Attention is drawn to the risk that the value of the principal invested in the Fund may fluctuate.

Sustainability Risk: The Fund may be subject to sustainability risk which is the risk that an environmental, social or governance event or condition, if it occurs, may have a material negative impact on the value of an investment. Sustainability Risk relates solely to potential financial impacts from ESG events; it should not be interpreted as indicating that the Fund seeks to deliver positive environmental or social benefits.
