Investment objective

The objective of the Fund is to generate long term capital growth by investing directly in debt securities globally, issued by corporate, government, supranational institutions and local regional agencies or by gaining exposure indirectly through the use of derivatives. The exposure to high yield bonds and Chinese bonds is limited to 50% resp. 30% of the fund assets.

OPPORTUNITIES AND RISKS

Opportunities

- Interest income on bonds, capital gains opportunities on declining interest rates
- Particular stability of bonds with high credit quality
- Enhanced return potential through addition of emerging markets assets and high-yield bonds
- Broad diversification across numerous securities
- Possible extra returns through single security analysis and active management.
- Potential currency gains with share classes not hedged against investor currency

Risks

- The volatility of fund unit prices may be increased. Interest rates vary, bonds suffer price declines on rising interest rates
- Limited yield potential of bonds with high credit quality
- Increased risk of price fluctuations and losses of emerging markets assets, and high-yield bonds
- Limited participation in the yield potential of single securities
- Success of single security analysis and active management not guaranteed.
- Currency losses possible in share classes not hedged against investor currency

Footnotes

1) Calculated at the net asset value, excl. front-end load, distributions reinvested. Calculation according to method as defined by BVI, the German Fund Companies Association. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results. Any front-end loads reduce the capital employed and the performance. These figures refer to the past. If the currency of a financial product, financial service or its costs is different from your reference currency, the return and/or costs can increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations. The information given here: (1) is protected by copyright for Morningstar and/or its content providers; (2) may not be reproduced or distributed; and (3) is not guaranteed to be accurate, complete or up-to-date. Morningstar and its content providers assume no responsibility for any losses or damage that result from any use of the information provided. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. To determine the Morningstar Rating, funds of a comparable group in issue for at least three years are considered. The long-term performance serves as a basis, taking into account fees and risk. As a result, the funds are awarded stars, which are calculated monthly: Top 10%: 5 stars; next 22.5%: 4 stars; middle 35%: 3 stars; next 22.5%: 2 stars; flop 10%: 1 star. A ranking, rating or award is not an indicator of future performance and is subject to change over time. Rating as of: 30/04/2026

3) The Risk Indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. The categorization of a product is not guaranteed and may change in the future. Even the lowest category 1 does not mean a risk-free investment

4) Swing pricing is a process designed to protect existing investors in a fund from the costs incurred when other investors buy or sell units in that fund.

5) If the acquisition of Fund units is subject to a sales charge, up to 100% of such sales charge may be collected by the distributor; the exact amount shall be mentioned by the distributor as part of the investment advisory process. This also applies to any payment by the Management Company of an ongoing distribution fee from the all-in fee to the distributor. The all-in fee includes the expenses previously called management, administration and distribution fees

6) Total Expense Ratio (TER): Total cost (except transaction costs) charged to the fund during the last financial year. TER for funds-of-funds: The costs incurred by the fund itself (except transaction costs). Since the fund held other investment units ("target funds") in the reporting period, further costs, charges and fees may have been incurred at the level of the target fund.

7) Effective duration is a measure of the price sensitivity of bonds, particularly useful for bonds with embedded options. It is calculated by using the interest rate model to calculate three values for the bond: the value given the current yield curve, and the values for both up and down shocks to that curve.

8) Yield to maturity: The yield to maturity of a bond indicates what capital growth p.a. is theoretically possible up to maturity, if bought at the current price. In addition to coupon income, any price gains/losses up to repayment of the bond are taken into account. The yield to maturity of a fund is the weighted average of the yield to maturity of all the bonds that are held. It is assumed that the bonds are held until maturity and interest income is reinvested on the same conditions. The yield to maturity is a portfolio characteristic; in particular, it does not reflect the actual fund income. The expenses charged to the fund are not taken into account. As a result, the yield to maturity is not suitable as an indicator of the future performance of a bond fund.

9) Yield to worst: Represents the lowest potential yield that an investor could theoretically receive on the bond up to maturity if bought at the current price (excluding the default case of the issuer). The yield to worst is determined by making worst-case scenario assumptions, calculating the returns that would be received if worst-case scenario provisions, including prepayment, call or sinking fund, are used by the issuer (excluding the default case). It is assumed that the bonds are held until maturity and interest income is reinvested on the same conditions. Calculation is before currency hedging. The yield to worst is a portfolio characteristic; in particular, it does not reflect the actual fund income. The expenses charged to the fund are not taken into account. As a result, the yield to worst is not suitable as an indicator of the future performance of a bond fund. Forecasts are not a reliable indicator of future results.

10) Alpha is a measure of a portfolio's excess return relative to its expected return based on its risk level. It represents the value added (or subtracted) by a portfolio manager beyond what is explained by market movements.

11) Tracking error is the difference in actual performance between the portfolio and its corresponding benchmark. The tracking error can be also considered as an indicator of how actively a fund is managed and its corresponding risk level. It is measured as standard deviation of the portfolio's excess returns over the benchmark.

12) The Information Ratio (IR) is a measure of a portfolio manager's ability to generate excess returns relative to a benchmark, adjusted for risk.

13) Volatility measures the fluctuation range of the fund's performance over a specified period of time

14) The Sharpe ratio states the relationship between the return generated by the fund and the investment risk. The fund's excess return versus the risk-free market rate is compared to volatility. Negative values are not meaningful.

15) This is for guidance only and not indicative of future allocation.

Disclaimer

Investing involves risk. The value of an investment and the income from it may fall as well as rise and investors might not get back the full amount invested. Investing in fixed income instruments may expose investors to various risks, including but not limited to creditworthiness, interest rate, liquidity and restricted flexibility risks. Changes to the economic environment and market conditions may affect these risks, resulting in an adverse effect to the value of the investment. During periods of rising nominal interest rates, the values of fixed income instruments (including positions with respect to short-term fixed income instruments) are generally expected to decline. Conversely, during periods of declining interest rates, the values of these instruments are generally expected to rise. Liquidity risk may possibly delay or prevent account withdrawals or redemptions. Allianz Strategic Bond is a sub-fund of Allianz Global Investors Fund SICAV, an open-ended investment company with variable share capital organised under the laws of Luxembourg. The value of the units/shares which belong to the Unit/Share Classes of the Sub-Fund that are not denominated in the base currency may be subject to an increased volatility. The volatility of other Unit/Share Classes may be different and possibly higher. Past performance does not predict future returns. If the currency in which the past performance is displayed differs from the currency of the country in which the investor resides, then the investor should be aware that due to the exchange rate fluctuations the performance shown may be higher or lower if converted into the investor's local currency.
