(1) The summary risk indicator (SRI) is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the market or because we are not able to pay you. It ranges from 1 (low risk) to 7 (high risk). This indicator is not constant and will change according to the fund's risk profile. The lowest category does not mean risk-free. Historical data, such as that used to calculate the SRI, may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk profile. There is no guarantee that the investment objectives in terms of risk will be achieved.

SUSTAINABLE REPORT – METHODOLOGY

ODDO BHF AM considers that measuring the environmental, social and governance impact of an investment is an essential step in disseminating good practices in ESG integration. To do this, it is imperative to have reliable, simple quantitative criteria (no reprocessing) and to allow comparison between portfolios regardless of their composition (large vs midcaps, geographical and sectoral diversity).

The choice of indicators is therefore crucial for the relevance of impact measurement. The data for the environmental indicators come from our external non-financial analysis provider, MSCI. We systematically indicate the availability of the data at the level of the portfolio and its benchmark.

ESG integration at ODDO BHF Asset Management | 3 systematic steps

Exclusions

- Norm-based: exclusion of companies that do not comply with certain international standards.(chemical weapons , anti-personnel mines, violation of the principles of the Global Compact, etc.)
- Sector-based: total or partial exclusion of sectors or activities based on ethical considerations (tobacco, gambling, weapon, adult entertainment / pornographie and Coal...)

ESG ratings

- Usage of MSCI data based on a “Best-in-Class” approach
- All titles considered for investments have at least a BB rating

Dialogue and engagement

- Regular dialogue with companies on ESG issues
- Individual and joint engagement
- Inclusion of ESG research within ODDO BHF Asset Management’s voting policy
- Escalation procedure if engagement is not conclusive

ESG rating methodology

The diagram illustrates the MSCI ESG rating methodology. It starts with the MSCI logo, which branches into three pillars: Environment, Social, and Governance. Each pillar lists specific indicators: Environment (Climate Change, Natural Resources, Pollution & Waste, Environmental Opportunities), Social (Human Capital, Product Liability, Stakeholder Opposition, Social Opportunities), and Governance (Corporate Governance, Corporate Behavior). These indicators feed into a box for 'Exposure metrics, management metrics and industry specific weighting', which leads to a 'Final result between 1-10 which is matched to a rating between AAA to CCC'. Below this is a scale from 0 to 10, with corresponding ratings: CCC (0-2,857), B (2,857-7,143), BB (7,143-10), BBB, A, AA, and AAA. The scale is labeled 'High risk...' on the left and '...Strong opportunity' on the right, with an arrow pointing from left to right.

Carbon metrics methodology: We updated our methodology of carbon intensity calculation. Starting January 31st, 2023, when reported carbon values are unavailable or inconsistent, estimated carbon values are used. The estimations are based on average carbon value (scope 1+2 emissions) of sectoral peers as a function of revenues

MONTHLY MANAGEMENT COMMENT

February 2026 The European equity market remained bullish in February, continuing to outperform the US indices. The MSCI Europe NR rose by 4.05%, while the MSCI Europe Smid Cap NR index was up 4.90%. Meanwhile, the S&P 500 shed 0.90% and the Nasdaq was down 3.40%. The month was once again dominated by the theme of AI winners and losers. Semiconductor and memory companies were the clear winners, alongside their entire ecosystem, including the equipment manufacturers that produce them, the data centre energy suppliers, infrastructure builders and mining companies. Conversely, the list of losers is growing. Following in the footsteps of software publishers, the market has begun to have doubts about companies in the communications and knowledge industries, distribution, IT services, financial services, banking and insurance. At the same time, sectors or stocks that are well anchored outside this debate have emerged as safe havens, such as consumer staples, telecoms, utilities, construction and property. The US Supreme Court's refusal to uphold the reciprocal tariffs imposed by President Trump on 2 April was no cause for excitement, as the President replaced them on the same day with tariffs justified on a different legal basis. Questions over possible intervention by the United States in Iran have put further pressure on commodity prices, especially oil prices. These tensions were also reflected in the search for safe-haven assets. Precious metals continued to rise and purchases of government bonds eroded yields on both sides of the Atlantic. February was also marked by numerous annual earnings publications, often with very strong reactions. Our fund, with its share of winners and losers on the issues of the moment, but above all a period of rather satisfactory publications for our companies so far, was once again able to take full advantage of the rise in its index in February. In an uncertain and changing world, we stand by our investment philosophy. We invest in companies that are able to adapt to the new rules of international trade, and to the ongoing technological and geopolitical shifts. We make sure that their competitive advantage remains sustainable, ensuring their ability to grow across the world and to outpace global GDP growth. Nevertheless, in order to limit the risk of divergence from the index, exposure to banks and insurance companies was undertaken in January via ETFs, up to a maximum of 10% of the portfolio.

RISKS:

The fund is exposed to the following risks :risk of capital loss, equity risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, risk associated with discretionary management, currency risk, risk associated with commitments on forward financial instruments, counterparty risk, risk associated with holding small and medium capitalisations, risks associated with securities financing transactions and collateral management, Sustainability risk and on an ancillary basis risk associated with convertible bonds

SFDR CLASSIFICATION²

The EU Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR) is a set of EU rules which aim to make the sustainability profile of funds transparent, more comparable and better understood by end investors. Article 8: The management team addresses sustainability risks by integrating ESG criteria (Environment and/or Social and/or Governance) into its investment decision making process. Article 9: The management team follows a strict sustainable investment objective that significantly contributes to the challenges of the ecological transition, and addresses Sustainability Risks through ratings provided by the Management Company's external ESG data provider.
