Investment / Performance Objectives & policy

The fund mainly invests in government bonds denominated in euro. The fund generally favours direct investment but may at times invest through derivatives. Specifically, the fund normally invests at least 80% of total net assets in debt and debt-related instruments, including money market instruments, denominated in EUR. The credit rating and duration of securities are usually consistent with those of the benchmark.

The fund may invest in the following asset classes up to the percentages of total net assets indicated:

- corporate debt instruments: 20%

The fund does not invest in asset-backed securities or contingent convertible bonds (coco bonds), but may be indirectly exposed to them (maximum 10% of total net assets). Non-EUR investments are hedged to EUR.

The fund may use derivatives for reducing risks (hedging) and costs, and to gain additional investment exposure.

For more information read the Prospectus or Key Information Document (KID).

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 4 years.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a lower risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact the capacity to pay you.

For any further details on investment risks, please refer in particular to the Risks section of the Fund's Prospectus.

Investment Manager Commentary

Performance and Investment Choices

The 3-5 year Euro Area Government Bonds posted a negative return of -0.89% in July.

During the month, European government bond markets were primarily driven by the end of the Middle East ceasefire and the resulting shift in monetary policy expectations for the upcoming ECB meetings. In particular, energy prices surged following renewed attacks involving the US and Iran, as well as further disruptions to traffic through the Strait of Hormuz, heightening concerns over inflationary pressures in Europe. Consequently, European government bond yields moved higher, with the 10-year Bund yield reaching 3.20% towards the month-end. Additionally, on July 23rd, the ECB kept policy rates unchanged while emphasizing that inflationary pressures remained a concern. The Governing Council acknowledged that the recent energy shock had increased upside risks to inflation while reiterating its data-dependent, meeting-by-meeting approach. Against this backdrop, markets significantly repriced the likelihood of a rate hike at the September meeting, with the implied probability rising to 89.5% as of July 31st, compared with 53.3% at the beginning of the month.

On the macroeconomic front, the Euro Area Composite PMI increased to 51.9 in July (+1.9 points month-over-month), marking a five-month high. The Services PMI rose from 49.4 to 51.6, while the Manufacturing PMI increased from 51.4 to 52.0. Although these figures exceeded market expectations and pointed to greater economic resilience—potentially reinforcing the case for a September rate hike—they may not yet fully reflect the latest surge in energy prices, which peaked toward the end of the month.

In terms of country-level performance within the 3-5-year segment, returns were negative. In particular, top performers were Portugal (-0.745%), Netherlands (-0.768%), Spain (-0.781%), Finland (-0.790%), Germany (-0.866%), Belgium (-0.874%), Austria (-0.884%). In contrast, France (-0.896%), Ireland (-0.936%), Italy (-0.955%) lagged the index.

The fund maintained a slight long duration exposure relative to its benchmark, with positions mainly on Germany and a small position on Italy. The performance of the fund was in line with that of the benchmark.

Morningstar Rating based on the Unit of this document. For more details about the methodology, please refer to the Glossary as well as the following link: https://www.morningstar.com/content/dam/marketing/shared/research/methodology/771945_Morningstar_Rating_for_Funds_Methodology.pdf. Morningstar rating is a quantitative assessment of past performance that takes into account risk and costs imputed. It does not take into account qualitative elements and is calculated on the basis of a (mathematical) formula. The classes are categorized and compared with similar UCITS classes, based on their score and they receive one to five stars. In each category, the top 10% receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% 4 stars, the next 35% 3 stars, the next 22.5% 2 stars, and the last 10% receive 1 star. The rating is calculated monthly on the basis of historical performance over 3, 5 and 10 years and does not take into account the future.
