Fund Manager comments

Echiquier Entrepreneurs G turned in a positive monthly performance of 6.74% and of 12.91% year-to-date.

The prospect of easing tensions in the Middle East has supported the markets. This lull has led to a fall in oil prices (Brent -17%) and long-term yields in Europe (10-year OAT -14bps, 10-year Bund -10bps), encouraging a return of risk appetite. From a sectoral perspective, technology stocks continue to be buoyed by the boom in AI investment. The fund is outperforming its benchmark, driven mainly by stocks exposed to the 'AI' theme, data centres and semiconductors, all of which have reported excellent results: LU-VE (+28%, +67bps), CAREL (+22%, +59bps), CEMBRE (+20%, +52bps), SUSS MICROTEC (+32%, +54bps) and MELEXIS (+20%, +37bps). Conversely, energy-related stocks are falling, such as: DOF (-11%) and GTT (-3%). In terms of portfolio movements, we have repositioned our holdings in software stocks (ATOSS SOFTWARE, VITEC, WAVESTONE) following the sharp compression in valuations due to concerns regarding the impact of AI on these companies' business models. Conversely, we have taken profits on CAREL, KITRON, NKT, HMS NETWORKS and MELEXIS.

The synthetic risk indicator shows the level of risk of this product compared with others. It indicates the probability that this product will incur losses in the event of market movements or if we are unable to pay you. We have classified the product in risk class 4 out of 7, which is a low to medium risk class. In other words, the potential losses associated with the future performance of the product are low to medium and, if the situation were to deteriorate on the financial markets, it is unlikely that our ability to pay you would be affected. This indicator represents the risk profile shown in the KID. The risk indicator assumes that you hold the share for 5 years. Warning: the real risk may be very different if you opt to exit before that time, and you may get less in return.

*15% of the net outperformance versus the benchmark, if the fund's performance is positive
