Investment / Performance Objectives & policy

The fund mainly invests in government bonds denominated in euro. The fund generally favours direct investment but may at times invest through derivatives. Specifically, the fund normally invests at least 80% of total net assets in debt and debt-related instruments, including money market instruments, denominated in EUR. The credit rating and duration of securities are usually consistent with those of the benchmark.

The fund may invest in the following asset classes up to the percentages of total net assets indicated:

- corporate debt instruments: 20%

The fund does not invest in asset-backed securities or contingent convertible bonds (coco bonds), but may be indirectly exposed to them (maximum 10% of total net assets).

Non-EUR investments are hedged to EUR.

The fund may use derivatives for reducing risks (hedging) and costs, and to gain additional investment exposure.

For more information read the Prospectus or Key Information Document (KID).

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 4 years.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a lower risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact the capacity to pay you.

For any further details on investment risks, please refer in particular to the Risks section of the Fund's Prospectus.

Investment Manager Commentary

Performance and Investment Choices

The 3-5 year Euro Area Government Bonds posted a positive return of 0.387% in April.

During the month of April, European government bond markets continued to be primarily driven by the Middle East conflict and the associated energy shock. The ongoing blockade of the Strait of Hormuz and the resulting surge in energy prices pushed Eurozone inflation higher, rising from 2.6% YoY in March to 3.0% in April. This increase was largely driven by energy, with prices accelerating to 10.9% YoY, while core inflation edged lower to 2.2% YoY, mainly due to temporary factors. Inflation pressures were broad-based across major economies, with particularly strong increases observed in Italy and France.

On the macro side, data presented a mixed picture. Manufacturing activity improved, with the Eurozone PMI rising to 52.2, supported by higher production and new orders. However, this strength reflects precautionary inventory accumulation amid fears of supply disruptions rather than underlying demand. At the same time, employment continued to decline and expectations for future output weakened. In contrast, services showed a marked deterioration (47.2 vs 50.2 in March), with the composite PMI falling into contraction territory to 48.6 (-2.1 MoM).

Against this backdrop, the European Central Bank maintained a cautious but increasingly hawkish stance. While policy rates were left unchanged, President Christine Lagarde highlighted that a rate hike had been discussed and reiterated the ECB's strong commitment to bringing inflation back to target. She also signaled that the direction of rates is likely upward, although without pre-committing to a specific timeline, emphasizing the importance of incoming data and the June meeting for a more informed decision. Overall, the combination of rising inflation driven by energy, weakening growth signals, and elevated geopolitical uncertainty has complicated the policy outlook. Markets increasingly price the risk that, should energy prices remain elevated and second-round effects emerge, the ECB may be forced to tighten policy in the coming months despite a deteriorating growth backdrop.

In terms of country-level performance within the 3-5-year segment, returns were positive. In particular, top performers were Austria (0.512%), Italy (0.494%), France (0.481%). In contrast, Belgium (0.373%), Finland (0.359%), Spain (0.325%), Ireland (0.264%), Portugal (0.263%), Netherlands (0.263%), Germany (0.216%) lagged the index.

The fund reduced the slightly long duration exposure relative to its benchmark. The performance of the fund was in line with the one of the benchmark.
